AMBEDKAR UNIVERSITY DELHI

Dr. B.R. Ambedkar University Delhi (Ambedkar University Delhi or AUD) was established by the Government of the National Capital Territory of Delhi through an Act of Legislature in 2007 and was notified in July 2008. AUD has been conceived as a unitary university focusing largely on research and higher learning in areas of knowledge broadly under the domain of social sciences, humanities and the liberal arts.

Mandated to focus on research and teaching and guided by Dr Ambedkar's vision of bridging equality and social justice with excellence, AUD considers it to be its mission to create sustainable and effective linkages between access to and success in higher education. AUD is committed to creating an institutional culture characterised by humanism, a non-hierarchical and collegial environment, teamwork and nurturance of creativity.

AUD functions through its various Schools and Centres. Schools are expected to have relatively well demarcated epistemic contours. The distinct typologies in the nomenclature of the Schools reflect the focus on areas of knowledge and professional specialisations, which are relevant to contemporary times.

New Programmes at Karampura Campus

BA in Global Studies¹

BA in Law and Politics²

BA in Social Sciences and Humanities³

BA in Sustainable Urbanism⁴

MA in Global Studies⁵

MA in Urban Studies⁶

1. ba.gs@aud.ac.in
2. ba.lp@aud.ac.in
3. ba.ssh@aud.ac.in
4. ba.su@aud.ac.in
5. ma.gs@aud.ac.in
6. ma.us@aud.ac.in

The proposed programmes at Karampura are located differently in terms of their engagement with disciplinary ways of organising education. Law and Politics aims at a multidisciplinary approach, training students in the fundamentals of its two core disciplines. Global Studies has the interdisciplinary aim to ‘synthesize and harmonize’ disciplinary perspectives around a specific concern, i.e. globalization and globality. Sustainable Urbanism / Urban Studies is a transdisciplinary programme, given that ‘the urban’ as an object of research and practice has shared concepts and methodologies beyond the disciplines. The Social Sciences and Humanities programme is located at the intersections of these three areas, offering majors in different tracks broadly around comparative studies, politics and urbanisation.

The Centres on the other hand have a relatively flexible structure and comprise a group of professionals and scholars put together, offer in project mode, to undertake research, documentation, training and some teaching in lesser known or neglected areas of social and academic concerns. The Centres, as conceptualised at AUD, are identified as distinct locations for project-based research, policy advocacy, capacity building and networking with the community. The Centres are visualised to have project staff appointed on part-time and contractual basis from time to time and can also be staffed by faculty from the various Schools of study concurrently for a finite time.

Currently the following Centres are functioning at AUD:

- AUD Centre for Incubation, Innovation and Entrepreneurship (ACIIE)
- Centre for Community Knowledge (CCK)
- Centre for Development Practice (CDP)
- Centre for Early Childhood Education and Development (CECED)
- Centre for English Language Education
- Centre for Psychotherapy and Clinical Research (CPCR)
- Centre for Publishing
- Centre for Social Science Research Methods (CSSRM)
- Centre for Urban Ecology and Sustainability (CUES)

AUD is in the process of establishing several other Centres, e.g. the Centre for Leadership and Change, the Centre for Equality and Social Justice, the Centre for Engaged Spiritualities and Peace Building and the Centre for Social Applications of Mathematics.

CAMPUSES

AUD is currently operating out of its three campuses at Kashmere Gate, Lodhi Road and Karampura. AUD hopes to move into its permanent campuses at Dheerpur and Rohini in the next five years.

The programmes offered by the School of Business, Public Policy and Social Entrepreneurship, School of Culture and Creative Expressions, School of Design, School of Development Studies, School of Human Studies, School of Human Ecology and School of Liberal Studies will be available at the Kashmere Gate Campus.

The programmes offered by the School of Law, Governance and Citizenship and the School of Vocation Studies will be available at the Karampura Campus. The programmes offered by the School of Education will be available at the Lodhi Road Campus.

Gender-sensitive Campus Spaces

Building 'gender-sensitive and healthy' campus spaces is crucial for creating an enabling environment where our students and faculty, as individuals and as groups, can unfold our creative potential. The acts that constitute harassment are often general and diffused in our life.

It is, therefore, important to understand what constitutes sexual harassment and how it affects our everyday lives in both public and private spheres, in educational institutions and work environments. Our attempt is to generate a consciousness amongst the university community that treats the experience of sexual harassment as a violation of one's dignity as well as freedom of mobility, speech and expression. We are committed to providing a creative and stimulating academic culture and healthy and safe campus life to our students and staff.

We welcome all those who join us in the coming year to become a part of this process of creating a campus environment with a unique and fulfilling experience.

Zero Tolerance for Ragging

No form of ragging shall be tolerated in the University campus. Fresh students are advised to desist from doing anything, willingly or against their will, even if ordered to rag another student by a senior or any other student. Any attempt at ragging should be promptly reported to the Anti-Ragging Squad or to the Dean or to the Head of the Institution.

All students are required to submit a signed affidavit in the format which can be downloaded from the website, http://antiragging.in/Site/Affidavits registration form.aspx

AUD Hostel

AUD has at present limited hostel facilities. A few seats are available for girl students in the Kashmere Gate campus. Students can apply for hostel accommodation once they have secured admission. The application form and brochure for hostel accommodation will be available at the university offices and on the AUD website at the time of admission.

AUD is a non-smoking campus.

Consumption and sale of illegal drugs or intoxicating substances are strictly prohibited within the AUD campus.

STUDENT LIFE

Students at AUD start their day with classes, but it gradually transforms into a day where students become part of a wide range of events happening across the university. At one moment one might see a street play in progress, at another moment one might walk into a discussion over serious issues. AUD students spend their day engaging in these activities, enjoying each moment with full zeal and then preparing for the events of the next day with equal enthusiasm.

Film screenings, literary festivals, musical nights, street plays, poetry recitations and other such events bring diverse kind of culture to the students; they not only enjoy but also learn. A student not only gathers knowledge in lectures here at AUD, but the horizon of education goes beyond the four walls of classes.

THE STUDENT CELL

Understanding the need for a student support structure, AUD has created a Student Cell – a peer support group that would hand-hold and assist fellow students, especially those who are facing economic, academic, social or emotional difficulties and as well as identify and engage with such difficult experiences of the students. Its initiative rests vitally on the student's sense of responsibility towards themselves and on their sense of identification with the University. Such an effort may help in the creation of an institutional culture that would be marked by a sense of community and ownership, aimed at addressing the alienation that is often felt in such large spaces. The Student Cell would primarily act as a buffer between the students and the administration. It would be a quasi-official body comprising largely of students themselves meant to act as a liaison between Student Services and the students. The Student Cell would become the first space for the students to approach in case of need.

CULTURAL ACTIVITIES

AUD has established a series of cultural societies to galvanise the intellectual and extracurricular life of students in the campus. There is a thriving Theatre Society, Sports Committee, Debating Society and Literary Society. The Economics Society, The Mathematics Society and the Society for Visual Culture have been activated. There are regular talks, lectures, screenings and performances in the campus and students are encouraged to participate in and organise events around them.

AUD@CITY

To celebrate the cultural and creative life of the student community and as an expression of AUD's connect with the wider community of the city of Delhi a two-day annual festival is organised at AUD. Aud@city is planned as a showcase event of AUD, with the stated objective of highlighting the unique mandate of the University of combining 'access with success'. It is an event that will showcase the different-ness of AUD which sets it apart from other institutions of higher learning in Delhi, by focusing on the advantages of being Delhi's State University – 'of and for Delhi' by providing a space for creativity, inter-disciplinarity, multiculturalism and plurality.

PROGRAMMES at AUD

BVoc Programmes

BVoc Early Childhood Care Management and Entrepreneurship (ECCME)

BVoc Tourism & Hospitality (T&H)

BVoc Retail Management (RM)
svs@aud.ac.in

The admissions to all postgraduate programmes are based on an entrance test and interview. The admission to the MBA programme is based on an Entrance Test, Essay and Interview. The admission to the MDes (Social Design) is based on an Interest Proposal, Situation Test and Interview.

AUD reserves the right to defer/withdraw any of the above Programmes.

Research

Admissions to the MPhil programmes occur once a year in July–August. Admissions to the PhD programmes generally happen twice a year, in July–August and January–February. The number of seats available in each School for research may vary. Cutting-edge, unconventional and interdisciplinary research in new and established fields is encouraged at AUD.

Medium of Instruction

The medium of instruction at AUD is English. However, we encourage students from different linguistic backgrounds to apply for admission to the different programmes at AUD. Specially designed courses in English are organized to help students improve their language proficiency.

Assessment and Evaluation

The purpose of assessment and evaluation at AUD is to facilitate and promote learning with understanding. Students are expected to be regular in attending classes, workshops and other educational exercises. Work done by students during the teaching semester will count for more than the end-of-course examination. Grades will be given to students for performance in tests, classroom presentations, group discussions, fieldwork/project work, term papers and other exercises designed by teachers. The ability to work in a group or design an investigative project may be tested and evaluation may include peer assessment. Results of assessment will be communicated to students in a timely manner so that they have adequate opportunity to improve their subsequent work. Tutorials and mentoring will be important features of all programmes.

Outreach

The School of Development Studies and the School of Human Studies have jointly launched an MPhil programme in Development Practice in collaboration with PRADAN. The Programme involves ‘field immersion’ for about two semesters in rural and tribal locations.

FEE STRUCTURE

The vision guiding AUD is the commitment that prospective students learn to value and appreciate the social privileges they enjoy because of the heavy subsidy that goes into public institutions of higher education in India. Therefore, a minimum proportion of the cost incurred by the University for each of its students is reflected in the fee structure. Based on this philosophy, AUD has instituted a differential fee structure for different programmes, with an understanding that the upper slab is envisaged not to be so high that only a particular segment of society can afford it and the lower slab not so low that the sense of responsibility is retained.

The differential fee structure ranges from Rs. 750 to Rs. 2440 per credit for most courses. Students will also be expected to bear additional expenses related to field-visits, supplementary programmes, learning materials, etc

In addition, students are required to pay Rs. 500 per semester to the Student Welfare Fund and Rs. 5000 as a refundable security deposit.

It may be noted that at present the fee constitutes not more than 10 percent of the operational costs.

Payment of Fees

All candidates who will be provisionally offered admission to a programme are required to deposit the fee within the time stipulated in the admission notice.

Students will be required to pay the fees of the subsequent semester/s within four weeks of the commencement of classes. A penalty of Rs. 100, will be imposed per week for late payment and after four weeks of non-payment, the name of the student shall be de-enrolled from the programme.

Fee-waiver

It is the stated policy of the University that no deserving applicant, as far as possible, is denied the opportunity of studying at AUD merely due to her/his inability to pay the fees. To implement this a comprehensive fee-waiver policy is adopted.

The University offers full and partial tuition fee-waivers to students who are in need of support given their economic background. Students with an annual family income of less than Rs. 6 Lakhs will be considered for tuition fee-waiver.

The gross annual family income ceiling (slab-wise) for availing tuition fee-waiver from the economically backward students (other than SC, ST and PwD), is given below:

Slab -1	100% Tuition Fee waiver	Rs 3 Lakh or below
Slab -2	75% Tuition Fee waiver	Rs 4 Lakh or below, but more than Rs 3 lakh
Slab -3	50% Tuition Fee waiver	Rs 5 Lakh or below, but more than Rs 4 lakh
Slab -4	25% Tuition Fee waiver	Rs 6 Lakh or below, but more than Rs 5 lakh

The University extends full waiver of tuition fees to all students belonging to SC, ST, and PwD categories

Procedure for Applying for Fee-waiver

At the time of admission, a student can apply for tuition fee-waiver by submitting supporting documents as below:

SC/ST/PwD students

Self-undertaking for availing the fee waiver prescribed by the Student Services division.

Economically-backward students

Income certificate issued by Tehsildar/Sub-divisional Magistrate of the current financial year.

Refund of Fees

After being admitted, if a student withdraws from the programme the fees would be refunded as given below.

- Before the orientation programme Rs. 1000 will be deducted.
- After the orientation programme only caution deposit will be refunded

Student Welfare Fund

The University has created a Student Welfare Fund with the objective of making financial assistance available for meeting the welfare needs of students in need, such as emergent medical assistance, purchase of books and study material and any other comparable needs of students.

An amount of Rs. 500 per semester is collected from all students towards the Student Welfare Fund and an equal amount is contributed by the University. The Fund is managed and monitored by a Committee which includes nominees from among the student community.

Through the fee structure as well as the exemptions offered, AUD hopes to inculcate a social sensitivity in its students—to respect what they enjoy as privileges and to be able to serve society in their future professional capacities.

Admission of Foreign Students

A few seats are reserved for foreign students in every programme.

Eligibility

Foreign nationals who are not in India need to apply through their Consulate or Embassy. All foreign nationals must hold a student visa valid for the entire period of study endorsed by the Ministry of External Affairs, Government of India. The degrees of foreign nationals must be recognised by the Association of Indian Universities.

Fees for foreign students will be twice the fee applicable to Indian students for each semester and Rs. 500 per semester towards the Student Welfare Fund. In addition they will be required to pay Rs. 10000 as a refundable deposit.

Foreign students should send their applications to:

The Dean Student Services

Ambdkar University Delhi

Lothian Road, Kashmere Gate,

Delhi 110 006.

The decision of the Admission Committee on all matters of admission will be final.

The jurisdiction of any dispute will be limited to the NCT of Delhi.

ANTI-RAGGING COMMITTEE

As per the directions of the Supreme Court of India, ragging within or outside any educational institution is prohibited. "Ragging means doing an act which cause or is likely to cause insult or annoyance or fear or apprehension or threat or intimidation or outrage of modesty or injury to a student."

If any incident of ragging comes to the notice of authority, the concerned student shall be given liberty to explain and if his/her explanation is not found satisfactory the authority would expel him/her from the institutions.

MONITORING PROGRESS OF MPHIL/PHD CANDIDATE

Scholars enrolling in MPhil will have to submit a dissertation for examination within 2 years from date of enrolment. Synopsis presentation is expected to take place within 6 months of completion of coursework prior to thesis submission.

An MPhil student is also expected to present a paper/ research work at a conference as part of pre-submission requirement of their dissertation.

The minimum period for completion of PhD, including coursework period is three years, and maximum is 5 years.

More details regarding rules governing MPhil and PhD programmes at AUD are available in the Research Studies Regulation.

The supervisor and the RAC will monitor five milestones during the PhD process:

◇ Successful completion of coursework: normally within 12 months of enrolment.

◇ Presentation and defence of research synopsis: before 5 semesters are completed after enrolment.

◇ Publication of a paper based on research work done for thesis: before submission of thesis.

◇ Pre-dissertation public viva: to be arranged by the SLS RSC.

◇ PhD defence in presence of AUD supervisor, co-supervisor (if any), thesis examiners, and any other experts invited as per research studies regulations of AUD.

ADMISSIONS 2018

SEATS: MPhil-08, PhD-4 (AUD will follow the roster system for reservation for seats).

HOSTEL: AUD has 45 seats for women in its hostel in Kashmere Gate.

ELIGIBILITY

Candidates seeking admission in MPhil or PhD programme must have completed MA/MSc from a recognised University/Institute in Mathematics or a related subject with 55% marks or an equivalent grade. A relaxation in marks of 5% or an equivalent relaxation of grade is allowed for those belonging to SC/ST/OBC (non creamy layer, Delhi)/ differently-abled categories (DOPT/UGC list).

Meeting the eligibility criteria alone will not ensure admission.

Statement of Purpose (SOP): To be submitted at time of application. It should include a well articulated argument as to why the candidate wishes to pursue research at AUD. It should also include details on the area/s in mathematics in which the candidate wishes to pursue research. The SOP should not exceed 500 words. Candidates' proposed research areas should be aligned with the specialisations of SLS (Mathematics) faculty. Applicants are therefore encouraged to consult faculty profiles on the AUD website.

Entrance Test: SLS (Mathematics) will conduct two entrance exams. The first examination is common for candidates applying to both the MPhil programme and the PhD programme and will be based broadly on a Masters level curriculum in Mathematics. The second examination is meant only for candidates applying for the PhD programme. While the questions for this will also be based on a Masters curriculum, they will be exploratory in nature drawn from the areas of research in which supervision will be offered.

Interview: Only candidates qualifying in the written exam/s will be called for the interview. The interview shall be based broadly on a Master's level curriculum, the written exam/s and the statement of purpose submitted.

A provisional admission to the MPhil or PhD programme will then be offered to the candidates on the basis of combined merit in the written entrance exam and interview with 75% weightage for written exam/s and 25% in interview.

MPHIL DEVELOPMENT PRACTICE

The M. Phil Programme in Development Practice is offered jointly by the School of Human Studies (SHS) and the School of Development Studies (SDS), Ambedkar University, Delhi (AUD), in collaboration with PRADAN.

In keeping with the AUD objective of engaged social sciences, and with PRADAN, a public service organization promoting and strengthening livelihoods and gender-work across rural India, the programme pedagogically believes in learning about 'doing development' and learning through 'doing development'.

PROGRAMME DESCRIPTION

With three major pedagogic beliefs, (i) a critical, analytical, and reflexive relationship with mainstream development discourse and practice, (ii) an immersion based appreciation of the relational dimensions of the subjective in the rural adivasi context, and (iii) through an action research based righting of these wrongs – the MPhil programme encourages students to explore possibilities of transformatory social praxis along the axes of experiences of caste, class, gender, ethnicity, poverty, violence, governance, health, education, livelihoods etc.

It places the question of (rural) transformation across self, social, and political axes at the core of enquiry, research and practice. Seeing development beyond the quantitative, top-down, governmental understandings, it hopes to build on a more humane, relational, and experience based conception of development and its practice. In doing so, it marks a departure from conventional social science conceptions of development as well as the methodology of research and thereby knowledge, and extant idioms of practice.

In this endeavor, the programme inculcates students with a critical, analytical and reflexive relationship with development discourse and practice from the experience of stratifications, justice and well-being. Further, foregrounding the relational dimension, it engages with communities and collectives as an ever emergent and an ever transforming 'being in common'. To appreciate this relational dimension, emphasis is laid on listening, non-coercive communication through an immersed encounter in the everyday life of rural communities, their experiences, feelings, and desires.

Thus the programme marks a shift from the conventional methodology of fieldwork based research to an immersion based 'knowing', feeding in turn into collaborative research with, rather than on, the community. With and Academic Supervisor in AUD and Field Supervisor from PRADAN, students are encouraged to build on collaborative and deliberated understanding of not just 'what is wrong' in the rural but also about possible ways of undertaking collective action for 'righting the wrongs'. This brings the researcher's 'need to know' in dialogue with the community's need for transformative social action.

These move the MPhil student from mere knowing to doing, to knowing about doing. 'Action research' in the rural takes the programme beyond conventional research and conventional practice. It also brings research and practice to dialogue. By researching and documenting these actionings in the MPhil thesis, the attempt is to understand and generate abstract learnings and explanatory frameworks about the infinite complexities of the transformation of the self, social, and political in the adivasi rural.

Courses offered in the Programme are geared to the fulfillment of these objectives.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION FOR APPLICANTS APPLYING for
MPhil and PhD in Comparative Literature and Translation Studies (CLTS)

The School of Letters offers a range of interdisciplinary courses and programmes in the literary humanities that support, encourage and redefine the meanings of literature, culture, language and humanisms in historical and contemporary perspectives.

Tagore translated “Comparative Literature” into Bengali as “visva sahitya” or world literature. The choice of sahitya for literature reveals the possibilities of comparative studies of literature in our part of the world. Comparison is not just comparing disparate objects but nurturing a conceptual space in which the imagination can be confronted with otherness. The aim of the research programmes in CLTS in SOL is precisely to turn literature into an experience of that otherness, which both questions and redraws the sense of culture, nation and identity.

While close-reading skills in the original will be a key aspect of the comparatist–translator’s brief, researchers in our integrated MPhil and PhD programmes may also choose to bring literary studies in close dialogue with other disciplines from the humanities and social sciences. The programme will encourage the practice of translation and recognize its significance in ways that will promote the reading and dissemination of literatures in as many languages as possible, with a special focus on Indian and South Asian literary cultures.

Currently supervision in the following research domains is available: theories of comparative literature, Indian literary cultures (Bengali and Urdu), politics and aesthetics of translation, and minority writing.

Semester 2: 8 credits (2 electives x 4 credits)

Semester 2/3: 4 credits (dissertation writing workshop)

Direct PhD: In some cases, a direct PhD scholar may be asked to fulfil some coursework requirements.

Dissertation/Thesis:

The MPhil dissertation in the second year of the programme allows students to do independent research under supervision. The MPhil will focus on one question but attempt to harbour its possibilities as well as explore its depths. The MPhil lends itself to focussed philological-comparative work whereas the PhD thesis will raise the student’s question to the level of the humanities in general. There will be an option of submitting major translation work with substantial introduction in lieu of dissertation/thesis.

Entrance Test: SLS (Mathematics) will conduct two entrance exams. The first examination is common for candidates applying to both the MPhil programme and the PhD programme and will be based broadly on a Masters level curriculum in Mathematics. The second examination is meant only for candidates applying for the PhD programme. While the questions for this will also be based on a Masters curriculum, they will be exploratory in nature drawn from the areas of research in which supervision will be offered.

Interview: Only candidates qualifying in the written exam/s will be called for the interview. The interview shall be based broadly on a Master's level curriculum, the written exam/s and the statement of purpose submitted.

A provisional admission to the MPhil or PhD programme will then be offered to the candidates on the basis of combined merit in the written entrance exam and interview with 75% weightage for written exam/s and 25% in interview.

MPhil and PhD ADMISSIONS 2018 for Mathematics

Applications are invited for MPhil and PhD Programmes in Mathematics. Supervision will be available in Algebra, Analysis, Differential Equations and Mathematical Modelling.

SUPERVISORY ARRANGEMENT

A Supervisor from the Mathematics Faculty of SLS shall be assigned to each MPhil and PhD Scholar. A Research Advisory Committee (RAC) would be constituted for each MPhil and PhD scholar.

The RAC will meet regularly to monitor the research scholar's progress during the programme and will also make recommendations as required to ensure that the scholar completes all requirements of course work.

A 6-monthly progress report has to be submitted by supervisor in consultation with RAC.

Co-supervisory arrangements are possible with experts and scholars outside the School or even outside AUD on the conditions that they have recognised academic credentials, and the Research Studies Committee (RSC) of the School should be convinced that the involvement of this person would significantly enhance the quality of the scholar's research.

COURSE WORK

Candidates admitted in the MPhil and PhD programmes are required to complete 16 credits of course work during a period of two semesters.

A PhD scholar having an MPhil degree may be exempted from course work if the Scholar's RAC makes such a recommendation and the same is accepted by the RSC of the School.

In the first semester, 8 credits of core courses in Algebra and Analysis will be offered. In the second semester the research scholar will be expected to complete two elective courses from those offered, worth 3 credits each and a Research Methodology course for 2 credits.

Participation in course work presumes a scholar's residence in Delhi region during the officially recognised academic year/ sessions and the scholar's regular attendance of classes and related exercises.

Exceptions to the 'residency requirement' could be for scholars who are prescribed course work or 'pre-thesis' learning activities of a kind which cannot be fulfilled at AUD or which the RSC specifically prescribes to be done in some other place/under special conditions.

Other courses and pre-submission activities could be prescribed to a research scholar by the RSC, according to the scholar's particular research requirements.

STIPEND: As may be determined by the AUD-Standing Committee Research (SCR) from time to time.

AUD-CWDS M.PHIL./PH.D. PROGRAMME IN WOMEN'S AND GENDER STUDIES (SCHOOL OF HUMAN STUDIES)

Admissions 2018

Women's and Gender Studies M. Phil./Ph. D. programme is conducted jointly by Ambedkar University, Delhi and Centre for Women's Development Studies (Delhi) as part of collaboration between the two institutions. The programme will assimilate analytical understandings of the significance of gender (relations) and foster study of conduits and configurations of power, causes, contexts and consequences of women's subordination.

The M. Phil./Ph. D. programme also creates a space for questioning silences around gender that steer the workings of caste, class and community in contemporary and historical societies, and in the social sciences.

Teaching Methodology:

The pedagogies of teaching and learning employed at Women's and Gender Studies research programmes, are intended to inculcate a feminist sensibility in our students in ways that balance academic rigour with intellectual freedom.

Students are encouraged to experience the personal as political by bringing into the classroom spaces critical reflection on their own and others' life histories and activism in conjunction with feminist texts and theorisation.

At Ambedkar University Delhi, the programme is offered by the School of Human Studies, an explorative, interdisciplinary space for thinking and reflecting on the myriad meanings of being human. Academic programmes housed in the School focus on the promise and potential of the human along with the actual historical exclusions and marginalisations that humans have led to. This unique collaboration with Centre for Women's Development Studies supplements the development approach to gender with the interdisciplinary resources at AUD, in particular literature, film, psychology, sociology, history and expressive cultures.

Research Opportunity:

The second year of the M.Phil. /Ph.D. programme, allows students to do independent research under supervision. This is an opportunity to not only contribute to knowledge production in the field of Women's and Gender Studies but also to interpret and challenge existing knowledge systems with a gender-sensitive lens. The research thus conducted is also expected to help students in identifying the potential areas of research and work to be taken up after the completion of their programme.

The Course Structure for 2018-19:

The AUD-CWDS collaborative MPhil/PhD programme in Women and Gender Studies was launched in 2012-13 and completed five years of this successful collaboration in 2017. The MoU between CWDS-AUD was renewed last year. In the light of our experience of having run the programme as well as the change in AUD Research Guidelines for the MPhil/PhD programme in 2017, we have revised our course structure. The revised course structure provides the necessary grounding for MPhil students who must complete both the course work and the thesis within the two year period stipulated by the new guidelines. It also caters to PhD students from outside AUD who may not have the requisite background in the field of Women and Gender Studies, and who can avail of these courses being offered in the first year of the proposed 5 year period available for completing the PhD.

The details of the course structure are given below:

Sl.No.	Semester 1	Semester 2
1.	Name of the course and credits assigned	Name of the course and credits assigned
2.	Feminist Theories (4 credits)- core compulsory	Guided Study (2 Credits) compulsory
3.	Research Methods with Exemplary Works (4 credits) – core compulsory	Elective (4 credits)
4.	Elective (2 credits)
Semester 3 and 4 – Dissertation/Thesis – 16 credits

The first semester of the programme would provide the necessary orientation to students both at the theoretical level and in terms of research methodology. The first semester has two course compulsory courses, Feminist Theories (4 credits) and Research Methods with Exemplary Works (4 credits). Another Elective (2 credits) will be opted for by the students from among the electives offered within/across the Masters/research programmes in the University. The second semester again gives the option of choosing an elective (4 credits) from other programmes across the University. This is to fully avail the range of expertise among faculty and also to cater to the different interests of students. A compulsory Guided Study course (2 credits) will also be offered in the second semester based on the specific research interests of the students so as to effectively guide them towards a fully worked out research proposal before the end of the second semester. The weightage of dissertation/thesis in the new programme structure is 16 credits.

Semester I

I. Feminist Theories (Semester I, 4 Credits)

This course designed to provide students with a genealogy of feminist theories and concepts. Eschewing the dominant narrative mode of representing the history of feminist theory as a series of ‘waves,’ we will examine the history of ideas on and different theoretical and disciplinary approaches to the study of women and gender. How has women’s oppression been theorised by deploying new concepts or theoretical frames?

What sorts of debates and contestations have characterised such theories, whether in India or elsewhere? How have various strands of social thought (liberal, materialist, Marxist, psychoanalytic, poststructuralist, postcolonial, etc.) influenced conceptualizations of women and gender and how have feminists responded to key social thinkers from these perspectives? Course readings will include approaches to theorizing patriarchy, women, sex and gender as analytical constructs; the relationship of women and gender to other relations of difference/hierarchy/power, such as class, race, caste, nation, disability, among others; questions of universality, community/culture and so on; masculinity and femininity as social constructions; theorizing on sexualities and sexual identities; and feminism itself as a contested political term. One of the key aims of the course is to understand the linkages between core theoretical movements that have influenced feminist scholarship over the past several decades, and the challenges that they pose for the practice of feminist inquiry and modes of theorizing across the disciplines and in the Indian context.

II. Research Methodologies with Exemplary works (4 credits, Semester I)

The course will highlight the marginalization of gender in knowledge and knowledge production in different disciplines like the natural sciences, social sciences and humanities. Conventional knowledge systems revolve around notions of truth, rationality, universality, objectivity and the scientific method. In this framework, the researcher is envisaged as a detached, unbiased and objective observer. Given the historical dominance of patriarchy, feminism regards such knowledge as inherently androcentric (male-centred), since men have occupied positions of power and authority in all domains of social life, including the academy. Feminist theory and methodology contest this approach to knowledge and proposes alternate more gender-sensitive perspectives. It is the purpose of this course to both describe the feminist critique of conventional knowledge and the alternate paradigms of approaching knowledge and doing research that are less sexist and more sensitive to both the location of the researcher and the object/subject of study. Select exemplary feminist research articles shall be taken in this course to demonstrate the research methods used in these works and their connections with epistemologies.

Some key themes shall be taken up to illustrate not only how myriad research techniques maybe used for a single issue, but also how different facets or dimensions of the apparently same phenomenon get highlighted from different methodological perspectives. Heterosexual marriage and family, labour, health and violence are some themes that shall be taken up to discuss key approaches in feminist research methodologies that actively engage with concepts like subjectivity of the researcher, individual experience, questioning the qualitative-quantities distinctions, power relations in research etc and most importantly how to arrive at a research problem. For instance, taking the example of gender and labour, one may look at women's participation in the work force from macro-level data sets like the census and NSSO data sets and arrive at quantitative findings. From another perspective, one may look at how housework and reproduction conceptually constitute distinctive forms of work that are not necessarily labour in the market sense of the term. Then, one may look at the sexual division of labour at the household level and examine the concept of double burden of work through qualitative studies. Looking at women and work in the formal sphere, one may look at issues of status and profession through organisation-based ethnographies. There is enough published material in the form of research papers and articles to provide this theme based methodological perspective to students. Some of the material can in fact be culled out from the attached list of suggested readings.

Applying a gendered lens to different kinds of primary and secondary data will help students operationalise key feminist concepts and theoretical constructs with a view to developing their dissertation project.

III Any one Elective

1. Introduction to Gender (2 credits)

This course aims to familiarize students with the depth and extent of the feminist claim that all aspects of reality are gendered. This means a change in metaphors for describing gender studies' "lens" of analysis to its weave or texture whose strands can be differentiated but never held apart for long. "Gender" is thus not only seen as a one-sided category for analysis but also as necessarily imbricated and co-articulated through other social differentials such as class, caste, sexuality, ethnicity, race and community. However, a happy intersection of these differentials at the site of what is too easily understood as a "subject" (whether feminist or not) has collapsed gender back into a single-issue formulation about "woman" and regularized the shifting terrains of caste, class and racial experiences into the coherence of a single subject of feminism and gender studies analysis. Through assigned readings, the course tries to explore multiple and sometimes conflicting arguments on the meaning of gender, the category of 'woman' and the supposed coherence of the feminist subject. This is not to propose that the key trends in these arguments were static and did not transform or travel to different locations, contexts and time frames.

This course therefore proposes to destabilize the subject (both the topic and speaking self) of gender studies and introduce students to its uneven and often contested weave.

2. Reading Feminist Texts (2 credits, Semester 1, elective)

This course aims to familiarize students with the politics of reading- who reads and what is being read? What are the ways in which a text might be read- is there a universal approach or method of reading? Following this would be the debate on what constitutes a text- is there a privileged canon of texts- even feminist texts? The other significant question the first module would discuss is 'what is a text'?

The second section of the course would focus on certain themes. This thematic exposition would be done through some sample feminist texts.

3. Violence: Feminist Critiques and Resistances (VFCR) - (2 credits, Semester 1, elective)

The specific phenomenon of gender based violence is contained within the large and complex rubric of violence itself. The course will thus begin by conceptually locating the question of gender based violence within the idea of violence itself. In specific, an analysis of the violence perpetuated by the state and its various structures will form an underlying theme of the course. As such a larger emphasis will be on understanding structural and indirect violences, of phenomenon such as disability, land and property rights, sexual rights and the violence emanating out of the everyday. Since the different forms of violence originate from and are produced by systems and discourses of societal, political and economic power, the discussions in the course would include an examination of philosophical questions as to how processes such as law, democracy, (neo)colonialism, practice of caste and religion, as well as their corresponding institutions such as families, courts, schools and religious structures are invested with regimes of power. Also under discussion would be the gendered ideas of violence and non-violence itself. The course thus aims to expand our understanding of violence and its feminist critiques and responses, to locate both these categories in the quotidian and the banal.

4. Sexualities (2 credits)

The aim of the course is to perform a genealogy of the word “sexuality”? When does sexuality and the formation of human subject and identity become interlinked with each other? How does identity uproot itself from the sphere of nation, class and other placeholders to join itself with an identity through sexuality? Moreover, what kind of politics therefore sexuality/sexualities inaugurate? How does sexuality therefore bleed into structures of rights, governmentality and more importantly, how do structures of power reshape it to make it governable? The purpose of the course with a larger political bend in mind and an argument against a politics of identity. Rather than proposing counter-publics, marginalized solidarities, the course moves away from recognition and solidarity through identities, forcefully articulating its pitfalls and proposes a politics where identity is absolved from a political sphere. It moves from a politics of representation to a politics of immanence.

The first part of the course unpacks the word “sexuality” through several lenses. When did talking about sex gain prominence? And what ways was it talked about? Exculpating the contours through medicine, psychiatry, demography studies, the first part of the course punctuates with the emergence of homosexual as a “sexual identity”. In the second part of the module, the course begins the journey through this queer identity. Predicated on two words “to be in a closet” and “ kinships outside marriage”, the course probes the question of when , how and what does it mean by “coming out” or in a different vein “ should one make this identity recognizable. The third part of the course shifts to this politics of intimacy and with it the problematization of public and private. Beginning with a history of dating, the course looks at production and governing of families through sex. Finally the last part of the course fleshes it politics, a departure from ‘resentment’ articulated in identity politics towards different ways of navigation and collectivization.

5. Health (2 credits)

What do we understand by the concept called ‘health?’ Dominant definition of ‘health’ is the absence of disease. Modern medicine’s promise of curing all that is pathological or dysfunctional has enabled a certain way of understanding the human body. What happens when the concepts of normality and abnormality extends its judgment to behaviour, life style and mental health? Medicine and medical practice can then become both caring and controlling. Modern medicine and science have infact provided the specific knowledge or a guide to understanding and looking at our body. The course will seek to understand health care and systems of health care delivery developed on the basis of science and modern medicine. We will explore critiques, by both public health and feminist activists and scholars, of this conceptual understanding of health and health care systems. It will also look at the critiques of modern medicine and regimes of scientific knowledge and technology that frame the human body in specific ways and generate forms of governmentality that (self) regulate activities of individuals and populations.

The course will give an overview of critical issues in public health and will foreground women, especially the more vulnerable strata of women, to mark an entry point into debates around science, modern medicine, illness, well-being and offer critiques and alternatives to the current challenges of envisioning a people oriented health care system. It will look at ways in which bio-medical discourse produces race, gender, caste and class and differentially structures women and men's experiences of health. The course will cover a broad range of health issues for which gender has been of specific importance. It will also locate the concerns of women's health and well being in the larger context of socio historical, economic and political realities. It seeks to understand the biological, psychosocial and political factors affecting women's health and also analyze the ways in which this understanding is integrated into existing public health initiatives.

Semester II

I Guided Study (2 credits)

The Guided Study course is an individually tailored course being offered to students of both the MPhil and PhD in their second semester. The course will be structured around the thematic subject focus of the student as well as questions relating to how they wish to conduct the proposed research. Thus, depending on the interest and preparedness of the student regular meetings will be held with the concerned faculty to discuss a) readings specific to the area of interest of the student's research and b) conducting pilot studies to test the research questions of the student in the field of choice (whether involving field work, archival research, textual or conceptual explorations). This is a 2 credit course and will have structured meetings with the faculty member assigned to the student. The student will be evaluated in terms of a presentation of the work undertaken, a piece of writing that is close to providing a fully worked out research proposal, and the process involved.

II Electives: (4 credits)

1. Gender and Education – Manish Jain

This course aims to understand and examine how education and schooling are deeply 'gendered' constructs and experiences. It uses education and schooling as an entry point to examine questions related to state formation, international institutions, public policies, inequality and labour in colonial and contemporary contexts from the lens of gender. It draws on feminist engagement and critiques of education, schooling and state policies to probe how gendered constructions of knowledge and learner shape educational transaction as expressed in curriculum, textbooks and pedagogy. It engages with the historic denial and unequal access of education to girls and women and challenges to this inequality in colonial and independent India. Different national and international policy documents and discourses are examined in the course to take note of how state policies, international institutions, different sections of civil society and the intersecting vectors of gender, class, race, caste and ethnicity shape the policies, initiatives, and programmes for education of girls. This course also analyses formation and experience of schools as gendered spaces that in interaction with other social forces and processes produce masculine and feminine selves with different affective ties with the nation. Different kinds of employment of women in the formal and informal sectors of education are also probed to understand the gendered linkages of education with labour and community mobilization.

This course will be taught through a combination of class lectures, individual and group exercises. It would use a set of selected readings, audio-visual and textual sources (curriculum and textbooks) for transaction of this course.

2. Transnational Feminisms – Niharika Banerjea

This course will introduce students to the theories, practices and research around Transnational feminisms. How do feminists understand difference and build solidarity and alliance across differences of class, race, nationality, caste, gender, sexuality, religion and language? How do feminists critically write and dialogue about processes of colonialism, global capitalism, nationalism, human rights, and the politics of gender, sexuality, race, caste, and nation? In what ways does collaboration as a concept and practice define transnational feminisms? These are some key questions that we will engage with in this course with particular attention to organizing and coalition building across north---south divides. Along the way, we will also attempt to understand the intersections of transnational feminisms, the politics of knowledge production, and social justice concerns.

3. Gendered World: Politics and Memory in Northeast India (GWNEI)- Lovitoli Jimo

The course will introduce students to India's Northeast region through a gendered lens; the making of Northeast India during colonial period and, the making of Indian nation state in the post-colonial context where India's Northeast region became one of the 'other'. The course intends to deconstruct the idea of one homogeneous Northeast in the popular imagination within the Indian nation state. This will be done by foregrounding the contentious relationship between memory and history, culture and politics, and understanding how deeply gendered this history of homogenisation of Northeast has been. The role of political economy and the forces of market and developmental discourse of post-colonial India in the construction of the region will also be looked at.

The aim of the course is to understand the region through a critical feminist lens to interrogate how memories, both individual and collective, become cultural artifacts put into the service of nation building or identity formation. It thus attempts to unpack 'Northeast' as a 'cultural category' and at the same time critically engages with State policies and State making in the creation of the 'Other'. One of the ways in which Northeast is looked at is through colonial texts and records and in the language of state in post-colonial India as the region of conflict. Hence, the idea is to read the text against the grain where people's memory is used and evoked through different kinds of texts. Peoples memory's are used both in the creation of the hegemony as well as in interrogating the state and its agencies. Memory here is then used more as a methodological and pedagogical tool rather than a conceptual category.

There is a need to theorise the framing of India's Northeast region by looking at the complex histories and trajectories of the region through the concept of space, time and history in history making. One of the central questions that emerge is the absence of gendered history in the region. The challenge thus is to use gender as an analytical category in understating the region and therefore to theorise the political. The assumption that women here enjoy equal position in the so called egalitarian society, or that Northeast India is matrilineal and hence women are liberated is problematic. The division of labour, rights and privilege enjoyed based on age, gender, location, race, tribe etc will be interrogated along with the societal norms of governance and its translation into customary practices and laws which is based on oral history and culture; the trope of motherhood assigned to women through customary lens and the role played by women in identity politics. Placed between tradition, customs, and conflict situation, women negotiate between tradition and state power through fractured everyday experience and reality. Hence the need to engage, contextualize and theories different agents and functionaries of patriarchies and the emerging voices of women in the politics of India's Northeast region which this course will consciously make an effort to address.

CAMPUS

Location and Hostel Accommodation

Currently three campuses of AUD at Kashmere Gate, Karampura and Lodhi Road are functional. SBPPSE is presently located at Kashmere Gate campus, Lothian Road, Kashmere Gate, Delhi – 110006 within walking distance of Kashmere Gate metro station (near G.P.O. Kashmere Gate).

AUD has limited seats available for women in its hostel in Kashmere Gate. AUD hopes to move to its permanent campus at Dheerpur and Rohini in the next three or four years. The University visualizes its campus to be futuristic, both as physical and social spaces. The campus will be energy-efficient, ecologically-frugal and disabled-friendly. It is hoped that these will constitute spaces which will inspire openness and communality; spaces carved out of the urban landscape of Delhi which attempt to blend compact human habitations and workplaces in a seamless continuum with nature; spaces which include academic, residential, recreational and social facilities for students and staff.

Gender-Sensitive Campus

AUD endeavours to evolve campus spaces for students and staff, both women and men, in which we as individuals and as part of diverse collectives can grow and explore our potential without fear or the burden of prejudices. The prevalence of sexual harassment is one of the hindrances towards an enabling campus space. Our attempt is to devise methodologies through which we can generate a consciousness amongst the university community that treats the experience of sexual harassment as a violation of one's dignity as well as freedom of mobility, freedom of speech and expression. The university has notified the AUD policy on "Prevention, Prohibition and Redressal of Sexual Harassment and Discrimination" based on Gender Identity and Sexual Orientation in 2014. The first Committee for Prevention of Sexual Harassment (CPSH) was constituted through elections under clause 3.2 (i) (a) to (e) by the election committee constituted by Gender Issues Committee.

Zero Tolerance for Ragging

As per the directions of the honorable Supreme Court of India, no form of ragging is tolerated within or outside the University campuses. Fresh students are advised to desist from doing anything, willingly or against their will, even if ordered to do so by a senior or any other student, and any attempt at ragging should be promptly reported to the Anti-Ragging Squad or to the Dean or to the Head of the Institution, as the case may be.

All students have to abide by the "Code of Discipline for students" of the university.

Programme Description

The Women's and Gender Studies Ph.D. Programme is conducted jointly by Ambedkar University Delhi and Centre for Women's Development Studies (Delhi) as part of a collaboration between the two institutions. It creates a space for questioning silences around gender that steer the workings of caste, class and community in contemporary and historical societies, and in the social sciences.

The pedagogies of teaching and learning employed at Women's and Gender Studies research programmes, are intended to further a feminist sensibility in ways that balance academic rigour with intellectual freedom.

At Ambedkar University Delhi, the Ph.D. is offered in conjunction with the M.Phil. programme within the School of Human Studies, an explorative, interdisciplinary space for thinking and reflecting on the myriad meanings of being human. The unique collaboration with the Centre for Women's Development Studies brings together the complementary strengths of each institution, where CWDS is known as a premier institution in the field of research in women's studies, and AUD known for its interdisciplinary orientation.
