1. The University

Dr B. R. Ambedkar University Delhi (AUD) was established in 2007 by the Government of the National Capital Territory of Delhi (GNCTD) through an Act of Legislature and was notified in July 2008. Mandated to focus on research and teaching in the social sciences and humanities, and guided by Dr Ambedkar's vision of combining equality and justice with excellence, the University considers it to be its mission to create sustainable and effective linkages between access to and success in higher education. The University is presently functioning from three campuses situated in Kashmere Gate, Karampura, and Lodhi Road.

Two plots of land have been allotted by the Department of Higher Education, Government of NCT of Delhi, for setting up additional campuses of the University—one in Rohini, Sector 3 (7.02 hectares) and the other in Dheerpur, Phase 1 (20 hectares). Preparations are underway to start construction on both sites.

The Kashmere Gate Campus is located at Lothian Road and is in close proximity to the Kashmere Gate Metro station. This campus is shared with the Indira Gandhi Delhi Technical University for Women. The Karampura Campus—6.5 acres of land and buildings—is located on Shivaji Marg, Karampura. The campus is located in close proximity to Moti Nagar Metro Station (Blue Line), Inderlok Metro Station (Red Line) and Karampura Bus Terminal.

The Lodhi Road campus with an area of 1.97 acres is located in an old school campus at BK Dutt Colony, Aliganj. The ground floor of this four-storeyed campus building was fully renovated and functional after it was handed over to the University by the GNCTD in April 2017. This year the remaining three floors of the building have also been under renovation. Students, faculty and staff of the School of Education (SES) shifted to this campus in August 2017. In the future this campus will also house Centre for Early Childhood Education and Development (CECED) and other Centres to work towards improvement of school education in Delhi.

The University has a decentralised structure with Schools and Centres as the foci for all academic activity. The envisioning of its Schools, Centres and programmes has opened up new possibilities, the typologies for which are essentially along interdisciplinary lines. The conceptualisation of Schools is that of relatively well-structured interdisciplinary spaces within which programmes are located. Centres of studies and research are conceived as platforms for project research, policy advocacy, training, networking and clearing-house functions and address the more fluid areas of contemporary significance.

Vision

The University is committed to the promotion of education, research and extension work in higher education with a focus on liberal arts, humanities and the social sciences. It strives to analyse the forces contributing to social stability as well as social disequilibrium and to visualise how societal evolution can lead to a condition in which all sections of the people can achieve their full human potential.

Philosophy

A commitment to equity, social justice and excellence forms the bedrock of the philosophy and values of the University. As a public institution, the University sees itself as an instrument of social transformation, focusing on social action at the interface of civil society and the State.

Goals

The University strives for excellence in higher education in the social sciences and humanities. The University's main goal is to create sustainable and effective linkages between access to and success in higher education. It is committed to creating an institutional culture characterised by humanism, non-hierarchical and collegial functioning, as well as teamwork and nurturance of creativity.

Objectives

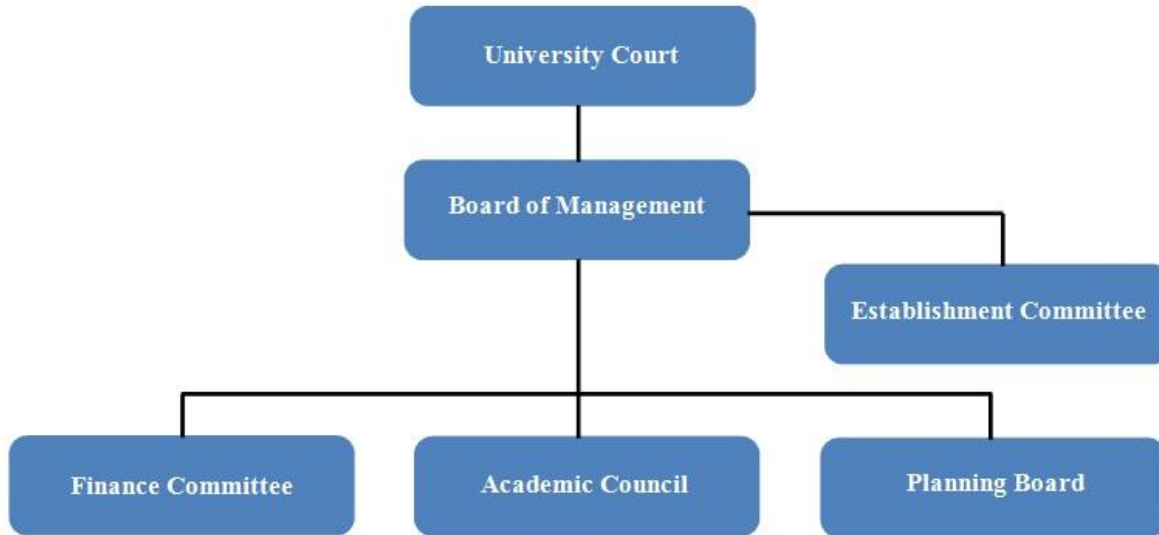

The University has been entrusted with the task of evolving and imparting comprehensive higher education of excellence with focus on the liberal arts, humanities and the social sciences. It is mandated to engage in both distance and continuing education. Like any other university pursuing excellence, it is expected to organise advanced studies and promote research, to disseminate knowledge and processes by organising lectures, seminars, symposia, workshops and conferences, and to liaise with institutions of higher learning and research in India and overseas. The University also focuses on publishing research monographs, treatises, books, reports and journals. While furthering these objectives, it will also promote cultural and ethical values.

Academic Structure

The University has a faculty structure that allows for full time-, regular-, core faculty, and for part time-, adjunct-, visiting- and emeritus faculty. The extended faculty also includes senior postgraduate and research students working as Teaching Assistants. The University's academic personnel policy has been designed to reflect the concerns embodied in the vision statement more effectively than the structures and processes of many Indian universities. It shall be the endeavour of the University to ensure that its functions are conducted in a transparent, orderly, fair and just manner, in order to promote a sense of shared governance among all its personnel; and develop a new work culture that strengthens and sustains the University's core values and philosophy. While adhering to all constitutionally mandated provisions for reservations, it will also endeavour to ensure equal opportunities for all, and in particular, to implement a pro-active gender-sensitive policy in recruitment.

2. Schools of the University

2.1. School of Business, Public Policy and Social Entrepreneurship

The School of Business, Public Policy and Social Entrepreneurship (SBPPSE) have been set up to promote research and to provide professional education and training in the field of management, public policy and social entrepreneurship. The School attempts to develop a holistic approach to business and profit within the larger context of society and the economy. The School, in response to the growing needs for professionals launched a two year MBA programme in 2012.

The programmes at the School attempt to foster an interdisciplinary environment that has the potential to engender cross-fertilisation of ideas across knowledge formations while transcending the artificial divisions between academia and the world of practice. Courses are designed to foster critical thinking and develop a climate of conceptual analysis and introspection to inculcate a spirit of rational inquiry among the students. The best of academic resources, including the latest technologies are used in the curriculum transaction; students are trained to develop relevant skills that match globally accepted standards of excellence. The School sees immense opportunity in the creation of new knowledge in areas of contemporary relevance and in offering programmes using non-conventional models such as online and distance education. Offering continuing education and vocational training are other opportunities that the School aims to tap.

Master of Business Administration

The two year MBA programme, while imparting the essential concepts and principles of modern management in the functional areas of Marketing, Finance, Human Resource Management, Organisational Behaviour and Operations Research, also exposes the students to issues of Public Policy and Social Entrepreneurship. The programme follows a blended approach to learning and is based on a variety of learning methods such as case study, simulation, role plays, classroom lectures, and experiential learning. Field-based learning and experience sharing by practitioners on a regular basis are integral parts of the programme. Efforts are made to groom and prepare the students to be leaders, entrepreneurs and managers who are ready to shoulder varied responsibilities and to take up any new roles in their respective endeavours. The faculty members are drawn from the academic fraternity, practitioners, policymakers, visionaries, administrators, domain experts and management leaders both from within the university and the outside world and are continuously engaged in teaching, training and mentoring the students with a strong focus on interdisciplinary learning. This is the key differentiator that enables a student passing out to face the challenges of life while being able to comprehend the complex integration of business, society, and culture.

PhD in Management

The PhD programme was launched in July 2018. It aims to develop a research environment wherein its scholars will be encouraged to conduct original research, create new knowledge and address the real management issues. They shall be trained to conduct and publish independent research. Through mentorship and joint research, scholars would be trained for careers in research, teaching and management. The programme is developed with a well-balanced mix of rigour as well as the flexibility to meet and compete globally with other similar programmes. It seeks to admit candidates with a yearning to learn and contribute original research to the existing body of knowledge. Academic integrity and an honest contribution to research are sought to be the hallmark of this programme.

2.2. School of Culture and Creative Expressions

The School of Culture and Creative Expressions (SCCE), founded in 2012, is conceptualised as a location that implements a new vision for art pedagogy and practice in India, with pioneering programmes that anticipate the opening up of a dialogue between practice and research. The School's aim is to engage and instill the scholars and practitioners with creative and critical apparatuses that may ultimately lead them to connect with issues concerning civil society and the state, and bring about works which have a positive impact on society as a whole. The School provides a nurturing ground for the development of new and different art-making practices and theoretical insights across the fields of Visual Art, Literary Art, Performance Art, and Cinematic Art.

The MA programmes conceptualised and offered by the School are done so in order to initiate a renewed engagement with the public at large. The mandate of the School is premised on cultivating a non-elite artistic culture. As a result of this, all the MA programmes of the School rigorously engage with questions concerning the dissemination of artistic knowledge. Keeping in mind this objective, all the MA programmes have an in-built structure that engages with possibilities of building a new public and publicness. It is anticipated that all the programmes will actively partake in the transformative potential of cultural activities, both at macro- and micro-levels within the cityscape of Delhi.

MA in Literary Art (Creative Writing)

The programme emphasizes an inventive and considered practice-based pedagogy intended to produce informed and self-reflexive creative writers. It inculcates an awareness of the scope, depth and linguistic diversity of the literary landscape in the subcontinent and globally and a receptivity towards creative writing as collaborative work, thus requiring a sensitive and supportive environment for creative production.

MA in Film Studies

The programme seeks to research programmes in film, media, and cultural studies of all nations along with addressing the need to train students as film critics, curators and theoretically informed practitioners in Indian and world cinemas. It emphasizes familiarity with theories, histories, and methods of engaging with film and media.

MA in Visual Art

The programme is designed to enable the students to engage with critical and experimental art practice and to carve out new spaces or strengthen available spaces of alternative creative practices.

MA in Performance Studies

The foundational research-oriented programme aims at encouraging the students to pursue further specialization in the field in the form of MPhil/PhD, which in turn would create a new cluster of scholars as pedagogues, performers, writers, directors, independent researchers and community activists in this emerging field with multidisciplinary perspectives and a sense of strong social connect. This programme uses inter and multiple disciplinary perspectives borrowing its major theoretical formulations from ancient theories of arts across culture, to very recent mode of communication and digital dynamics of 21st century in order to analyse and critically understand the various performance processes and practices, both by engaging with theory and practice.

MA in Performance Practice (Dance)

With its integrative curriculum that includes physical training, choreography, critical thinking and inter-disciplinary studies, the programme equips participants to redefine and rearticulate the boundaries of dance practice as performers, creators, researchers, pedagogues or managers through a critical engagement with the embodied cultures and the evolving dance ecology of the Indian subcontinent. Students are trained to be reflexive practitioners who engage with the discipline of dancing with a sensitive and critical approach.

PhD

The School offers PhD programme in Visual Art, Literary Art and Film Studies. The unique feature of these programmes is that they have developed a curriculum structure for practice-based artistic research.

2.3. School of Design

The School of Design is visualised as both a practice and research-based School for the pursuit of design education from the undergraduate level to the postgraduate and doctoral levels. The School is unique as it is placed in a University focused on the humanities and social sciences. The study and practice of design here is thus focused on bringing together the traditional attributes of design—the emphasis on form, function, and aesthetics—with concerns of equity and ecology to create more accessible, inclusive and sustainable public services and systems through participatory and collaborative design methods.

The School has been associated with the Royal College of Art (London) and the Glasgow School of Art (Glasgow and Forres) through faculty exchange initiatives and continues to explore future tie-ups with other institutions internationally and nationally.

Faculty members at the School have expertise in diverse fields including architecture, textile and accessory design, urban design, visual communication as well as art, architecture and design history. Adjunct faculty member brings in varied expertise in data visualisation, ecology, service design, social entrepreneurship, sustainability, systems thinking and user interface/user experience.

The Futures Lab at the School has been initiated to undertake sponsored and self-initiated projects to demonstrate the efficacy and value of design in emerging areas of social relevance. The lab is currently engaged with two projects ‘Last Mile Connectivity’ and ‘Urban Farming’ as part of a Design Innovation Centre funded by the Ministry of Human Resources Development.

Master of Design (Social Design)

Master of Design (Social Design) is a two-and-a-half-year, full time, practice-based programme. Students are trained in the methods, tools, and approaches of design disciplines with those of the social sciences to creatively address complex social issues through participatory and collaborative processes. The areas of focus are public services and systems (such as health, education, transport, waste, governance interfaces), community networks and livelihoods (pertaining to crafts, informal economies, built and intangible heritage, urban and rural commons), digital technologies (social media, user interfaces and experiences, privacy). Students are also introduced to entrepreneurial competencies and leadership to support them to establish their own enterprises while also providing internship opportunities in established organizations.

The programme comprises of 100 credits over five semesters of 16 weeks each. The academic work includes taught courses, studio projects, research, and self-study culminating in a thesis project on a real-life design brief. Internships and field studies form an integral part of learning through engagement with communities and organizations in both rural and urban settings. So far, students have interned with organisations such as Action Aid, Hyderabad Urban Lab, Thoughtshop, Public Health Foundation of India, Hunnarshala, Quicksand and Centre for Knowledge Societies.

Career options for graduates include challenging and gratifying opportunities with NGOs, CSR initiatives of corporate organizations, government agencies, community and social networks, academic institutions, and research organizations. The programme also supports students towards social entrepreneurship so that experimental and futuristic ideas can be incubated and realized. Graduates are now working at organizations such as Centre for Policy Research, National Institute of Design, Centre for Internet Society and UNDP in areas as diverse as health, wildlife conservation, design education, digital privacy, and waste management services.

2.5. School of Education Studies

The School of Education Studies is envisioned to evolve as a community of professionals and scholars endeavouring to understand education in its historical and contemporary contexts through engaged scholarship and practice. The School aims to bridge the gap between the theory and practice of education in its multiple locations—in that, it attempts to foster greater convergence between the study of education as a social phenomenon and the preparation of professional educators. In pursuit of its vision, the School instituted its first academic programme, MA Education, in 2012. In collaboration with the Centre for Early Childhood Education and Development (CECED) and with initial support from Sir Ratan Tata Trust, the School launched the MA Education (Early Childhood Care and Education) in 2014. In 2019, the School has initiated Continuing Professional Development certificate courses for practicing educators. These courses are a part of the plan to institute quality pre-service and in-service programmes in teacher education across the various school levels. The School also plans to launch PhD programme in education in 2019.

MA in Education

MA Education is a two-year full-time programme that involves rigorous engagement with educational theory, practice and policies. The programme aims to engage with education both as a social phenomenon and an area of knowledge as situated in the socio-historic-political-economic structures and processes of society. It uses multiple disciplinary perspectives to analyse and critically understand the various processes and systems of education. In this way, it hopes to contribute to the development of education as a discipline—by bringing together a range of literature and theories which can help in examining varied educational phenomena, by actively engaging with the field and by contributing towards research in education. Students will be exposed to various critical debates in contemporary education as well as field realities and hands-on experiences—through a combination of teaching, workshops, seminars, research and field components.

MA in Education (Early Childhood Care and Education)

The MA Education (ECCE) programme provides an in-depth understanding of early childhood care and education through multiple disciplines—child development, sociology, history, psychoanalytic frame, anthropology—and critical pedagogy. This multi-disciplinary approach, along with sustained field attachment at pre-schools, and summer internship at non-schools, offers a unique professional development opportunity for students. Research in the area of ECCE is further advanced through the dissertation component. The programme aims to cater to the growing demand for curriculum developers, social entrepreneurs and teacher educators in the field of ECCE, and scholars and researchers who can contribute to the body of knowledge in ECCE.

Continuing Professional Development (CPD) Courses for Educators

The CPD plans of the School are focused on engaging with the current context of inadequate quantity and quality of in-service teacher education opportunities for practicing educators. These plans are based on a vision of a seamless continuum of programmes that provide Initial Professional Preparation and CPD opportunities for a range of educators (including school teachers and leaders, educational administrators and planners, teacher educators, curriculum developers, parents, and others). The long-term plan is to offer many specialised courses allowing credit earnings that would culminate in a Diploma or a Degree programme. This provision of flexibility for continuing education to practicing educators is the unique feature that is rarely seen in the Indian teacher education scenario. Bringing CPD for practicing professionals in the mainstay of a University and creating spaces for exchange between school and higher education are the broader goals of the plans.

Collaborations

2.6. School of Global Affairs

The School of Global Affairs (SGA) focuses on emerging processes and issues that have the potential to impact life on the planet. These ‘frontier’ processes, given their uncertain and fast-evolving nature, call upon academic institutions to develop equally flexible and collaborative methods of engagement. These concerns include global warming and environmental change, health and well-being, urbanization, conflict and security, science and technology, and the new media landscape. Each of these is critical and requires thought and considered action. The School aims to amalgamate and organize these efforts with the goal of enabling cross-disciplinary conversations and collaborations.

The School currently offers three undergraduate programmes in Global Studies, Sustainable Urbanism, and Social Science and Humanities and two postgraduate programmes in Global Studies and Urban Studies.

BA in Global Studies

The BA in Global Studies (BA-GS) is for students interested in interdisciplinary thinking in an interconnected world. The course focus on real-world challenges such as climate change, borderless technologies, integrated economies, and mobile populations, all demand future graduates think and act globally. The challenges of modern world are carefully situated in the programme that recognises the process of globalization as having evolved over time and space. The compulsory foreign language component of the programme further aims to equip graduates with skills required to take advantage of the opportunities to become leaders in the age of global change.

BA in Sustainable Urbanism

BA in Sustainable Urbanism aims to build an interdisciplinary understanding of the growth and planning of cities nested in a variety of urban ecosystems. It aims to prepare technically equipped, analytically adept, and socially-engaged practitioners. Graduates, by the end of the programme, will be in a position to evaluate urban technologies in terms of their design, social interest and ecological sustainability.

BA in Social Sciences and Humanities

The BA in Social Science and Humanities (SSH) programme is structured and complemented by the orientation of the other three BA programmes in Law and Politics, Global Studies, and Sustainable Urbanism, that seek to craft their own respective niche through an interdisciplinary route.

MA in Global Studies

The MA in Global Studies aspires to inculcate a ‘global perspective’ among students as an epistemological attempt to investigate the diverse historical trajectories and underlying factors of globality by deploying a variety of intellectual tools and methods, leading to the appreciation of the connections and relationships of globalism, globalization and globality. Some of the essential programme objectives are to highlight the hidden histories and geographies of globality that are often subsumed within the dominant narrative of colonial, postcolonial and neoliberal globalization; and to understand processes through which perceptions of ‘local’ and ‘global’ are co-produced within a multitude of locally embedded contexts. This programme seeks to engender a culture of self-conscious and reflective learning through a suite of core, elective courses and guided research projects. It intends to prepare the graduates in all aspects to get absorbed in organizations, institutions and social spaces of all nature.

MA in Urban Studies

MA in Urban Studies aims to produce graduates who bring a humanistic approach to urban concerns even as they are conversant with their technical and analytical aspects. The programme is rooted in the realities and experiences of the Global South through continuous engagements with the field. It is built on three aspects of urbanism—the lived, the built, and the ecological—from which its content follows.

2.8. School of Human Studies

The School of Human Studies is committed to the idea that knowledge is relevant only when it spreads across society, transcending social hierarchies and barriers. In order to do this, the school accepts the need to re-examine a privileged understanding of what constitutes knowledge and the modes of knowing.

The School is committed to the idea that specific and varying locations of the teacher and the students would help in the co-creation of knowledge. Different subject locations would have to be respected as legitimate sources of creating new knowledge. This new knowledge would need new ways of knowing and new modes of investigation and research. The School is therefore committed to interdisciplinarity, not because it is a fashionable academic stance, but because of the philosophy and vision of the school.

The category ‘human’ is, of course, central to conventional social sciences and yet due to the rigid disciplinarity of conventional social sciences there are many limitations in both the knowledge generated and in the methods adopted within this strict disciplinarian framework. The School looks at traditional social science disciplines as social constructs, questioning in the process the validity of customary practices surrounding the disciplinary segmentation of knowledge and pointing out drawbacks inherent in the system of disciplinarity. Thus, the School is mindful of the deep interconnections between knowledge and power and seeks to question it while also attempting to demonstrate how it can be done differently.

The School is mindful that the supposedly universal category ‘human’ contains within it’s a series of exclusions – woman, queer, the mad, the rural poor, and the person with a disability. The School, through its programmes, seeks to understand the human from these locations. This approach is often described as Engaged Social Scholarship. It moves away from the conventional distance between the object of study and the researcher.

MA in Psychology

The MA Psychology (psychosocial clinical studies) is the flagship programme of the School. It has a unique structure with a balance of psychology courses with interdisciplinary foundational courses. The programme rests at the cusp of clinical and critical thinking touching salient themes such as marginalization, poverty, psychopathology, deconstruction of normalcy, Freudian and post-Freudian psychoanalytic clinical work.

MA in Gender Studies

The MA in Gender Studies is envisaged as a thoroughly interdisciplinary programme drawing upon gendered analysis from the sciences, social sciences and the humanities. It would enable students to understand the ‘situatedness’ of an individual within a family, society, culture, nation-state and global politics. The course combines theory, method and contemporary context to develop sensitivity towards the workings of gender in wide-ranging domains. This challenges students to think about the operation of gender at multiple levels through an exhaustive set of readings and stimulating experiences. Alternative pedagogical devices are employed to make the learning experience enriching and enjoyable. While the core courses like South Asia and Global Feminisms offer a historical and methodological analysis of the movement around gender and women, the elective options are geared towards encouraging students to choose options that will help them in employment opportunities.

MPhil Psychoanalytical Psychotherapy

This is a three-year programme dedicated to producing trained psychoanalytical psychotherapists and clinical researchers who are well equipped to contribute positively to mental health services. Its major thrust is to create a mental health professional who is sensitive, competent and open-minded, and who understands culture, history and politics, even as they emerge in the consultation room. Through relating symptoms to the life history of an individual or family, the emphasis is to understand the vicissitudes of human conflicts and struggles from an empathic position. With rigorous training, in theory, supervised clinical work, personal therapy of the aspiring clinician and clinical research work, it hopes to strengthen the capacity to think clinically, which involves identification, articulation and shared expression of mental states. An engagement and reflection on this rhythmic process enables a movement towards healing, and subsequently research. The MPhil programme is vertically integrated with a PhD programme in Psychology.

MPhil in Development Practice

The MPhil programme hopes to engender a classroom and field-based learning process that brings to dialogue the three hitherto hyper-separated components of ‘knowing’-‘relating’-‘doing’ through a one-year-long immersion experience in largely Adivasi and Dalit contexts in central India and an ‘action research’ based pedagogy.

The process of knowing involves inculcating a critical-analytical-reflective relationship with the dominant discourse of development through courses like Philosophy of Development Practice and Understanding the Rural, Equality Discrimination Marginalization, Environment Natural Resources and Development and Gender and Development, Philosophy of Justice, Discourses on Well-Being, and Politics Resistance Transformation. These courses enable students to conceive development beyond quantitative, top-down and statist approaches and take them to a more human-focused, relational or psychological context.

The course curriculum is built around a pedagogy that brings in faculty trained across disciplines as well as professionals associated with the development sector in the same platform. Professional Assistance for Development Action (PRADAN) a not-for-profit organization, has assigned 29 professionals as Field Faculty to supervise students. Students are jointly supervised by Field Faculty (in this case, professionals from PRADAN) and Faculty members drawn from CDP (Centre for Development Practice), SHS (School of Human Studies), SLS (School of Liberal Studies) and SDS (School of Development Studies).

MPhil/PhD in Women’s and Gender Studies

The MPhil/PhD in Women’s and Gender Studies were launched on August 27, 2012. These programmes are a unique effort borne out of collaboration between AUD and the Centre for Women’s Development Studies (CWDS). This collaboration is premised on the coming together of a research space—CWDS, and a primarily teaching space—AUD, experimenting with new kinds of courses and pedagogies. The programmes draw on the pioneering and rich work produced by Women’s Studies programmes across the country. The uniqueness of this MPhil/PhD programmes is also marked by them being housed within the School of Human Studies with its own focus on the complexity of the (gendered) subject in its intra-psychic and inter-subjective dimension. The programmes assimilate analytical understandings of the significance of gender (relations) as an object of inquiry, and the necessity of studying conduits and configurations of power, in addition to the causes, contexts and consequences of women's subordination.

PhD in Psychology

The programme hopes to strengthen a self-critical version of psychological inquiry. Guided by an interdisciplinary thrust and a self-reflexive perspective, this psychosocial framework of research, seeks to constantly question both knowledge and power and thereby aspires to reclaim a psychological human science that is culturally sensitive, decolonised and socio-politically aware. It attempts to foreground an inter-subjective research sensibility within which conscious and unconscious currents, feelings and the phenomenological flow of life are given salience. Serving life and its struggles and focusing on qualitative work wherein sustained engagement is valued and the transformative potentials in the self of the researcher and the researched are opened up, the course lays the foundations for a future researcher to undertake psychodynamically inclined, critical, participatory and dialogically oriented work.

2.9. School of Law, Governance and Citizenship

The School of Law, Governance and Citizenship (SLGC) offers an interdisciplinary perspective on the fertile and complex interactions of law, culture, politics, and social structures. Rather than treating the law merely as a domain of legal practice or as a body of knowledge reserved for lawyers and legal scholars, the School understands the law to be a contested terrain of practice and knowledge that is best investigated in a creative and collaborative manner. Reflecting the University's commitment to interdisciplinary scholarship, the programmes of the School attempt to create new ways of teaching law not merely as a legal subject but as a part of the social sciences and humanities.

BA in Law and Politics

Launched in 2018, the BA programme in Law and Politics introduces students to the dynamism of the legal and political field, which extends beyond the study of formal institutions. The first of its kind in India, this undergraduate programme explicates the productive entanglement of law and politics and the manner in which they co-constitute and generate each other. The programme's inclination is to delineate how law impresses upon life outside the structuring space of the courtroom and how in our political sensibilities, too, we draw upon law's syntax—citizenship, rights, duties, state, democracy, justice, order—to make our everyday comprehensible. The emphasis of the programme is on a conceptual introduction of core areas of public law as well as private law, which will provide the foundation that is needed to conduct interdisciplinary conversations. Within this framework, the BA in Law and Politics aspires to enlarge the formal structure of law, for a scrutiny of its immanent principles, its expression as the resolution of a political community that is envisioned to be upheld by institutions of the State and as an enunciation of rights of citizens, which then shapes the relationship between a State and its citizens. What propels this framework forward is an understanding of politics premised on a sense of mutuality and amorphousness, which may nevertheless be innovating and full of democratic possibilities.

MA in Law, Politics and Society

2018–19 was the second year of the MA programme in Law, Politics and Society. This programme is designed with the premise that a focus on the intersection of law and politics is of

2.10. School of Letters

The School of Letters came into being on 5 March 2017. The School offers a range of interdisciplinary courses and programmes in the literary humanities that support, encourage and redefine the meanings of literature, culture, language and humanism in historical and contemporary perspectives.

‘Letters’ signifies literature, but in this instance, is also intended to invoke the fields of orality, writing, reading, listening and communicating, i.e. living activities and not only a collection of texts and their interpretations. The term ‘Letters’ invokes multiple relationships between orality and writing, the individual and the collective. It demands a radical return to the idea of the humanities, in a way that is philosophically and historically aware, in order to address the question of subjectivity that is at the heart of the humanities.

The School represents an open space where a continuous dialogue with society and its discontents becomes possible. It grounds the reading of literature within its social contexts and encourages skepticism and a free environment in which discussion and debate can be kept alive. The approach is inclusive and innovative with an emphasis on new perspectives even in the study of mainstream literature. The overall aim is to promote a broad, inclusive vision premised on respect for all forms of life.

English, Hindi and Comparative Literature and Translation Studies as disciplinary streams may be broadly characterized as directing us towards understanding our time and our modernity as we inhabit it in our pedagogical and ‘worldly’ engagements within a specifically Indian public sphere. While remaining rooted in separate disciplines, the School functions as a space where collaborative and integrative approaches promote and enable interdisciplinary.

MA in English

The Masters programme in English proposes to dismantle the hierarchy between British Literature and other literature in English, including literature in translation. It seeks to bring into focus the significance of literatures belonging to lesser-known languages and regions. Strengthening the overall vision of the University, this programme hopes to orient students towards engaged and reflective scholarship.

MPhil and PhD in Comparative Literature and Translation Studies

Tagore translated ‘Comparative Literature’ into Bengali as ‘visva sahitya’ (world literature). The choice of sahitya for literature reveals the possibilities of comparative studies of literature in our part of the world. Comparison is not just comparing disparate objects but nurturing a conceptual space in which the imagination can be confronted with otherness. The aim of this research programme is precisely to turn literature into an experience of that otherness, which both questions and redraws the sense of culture, nation and identity.

While close-reading skills in the original are a key aspect of the comparatist-translator’s brief, our researchers may also choose to bring literary studies in close dialogue with other disciplines from the humanities and social sciences. The programme encourages the practice of translation and recognizes its significance in ways that will promote the reading and dissemination of literature in as many languages as possible, with a special focus on Indian and South Asian literary cultures.

MPhil and PhD in Hindi

The research programmes in Hindi seek to provide rigorous training in research methodology to foster a critical appreciation of Hindi language and literature.

PhD in English

The PhD programme in English seeks to train scholars in inter-disciplinary methodologies and engaged research. The researcher is expected to gain a thorough understanding of the critical, theoretical and philosophical universe/notions related to their research. Apart from inculcating acute critical thinking and reading skills, the programme facilitates academic writing and develops varied perspectives on a wide range of literary and cultural productions. Since the vision of the programme is founded on a broad and expansive understanding of ‘the text’ and literature itself, the ultimate gain from this programme would be an ability to read, question analyse and formulate one’s responses to cultural productions and the processes behind these productions.

2.13 School of Vocational Education

The School of Vocational Studies (SVS) was set up in 2016 as a part of the university's vision to reach out to the larger community of Delhi. Delhi's changing demography and the resultant emergence of a large number of first-generation high school graduates who are keen to pursue full-time or part-time tertiary education for getting prepared to participate effectively in the fast-growing economy through the acquisition of quality livelihood skills is the broad rationale for establishing the School of Vocational Studies (SVS). The first academic programmes were launched in 2017 by offering three Bachelors of Vocation programmes in (1) BVoc Early Childhood Centre Management and Entrepreneurship, (2) BVoc Retail Management and (3) BVoc Tourism and Hospitality. All the BVoc programmes offered have been approved by the University Grants Commission (UGC).

All BVoc programmes have multiple entry and exit options that lead to Certificate, Diploma, Advancement Diploma and Bachelor of Vocation Degree. Apart from the current three BVoc programmes, it is envisaged that the School will offer various other BVoc programmes and short duration certificate programmes on skill development for meeting the immediate requirement of the workforce.

The School has explored and developed programmes and courses that will provide students with the required skill-set and academic background for meaningful employment once they graduate from the programme. The curriculum for each BVoc programme has been designed in close partnership with industry experts, industry associations, Sector Skill Councils, various Schools and Centres of the University and National Skill Development Corporation (NSDC) as well as professionals and academics. The programmes have mandatory component of internship/on the job training (OJT) to provide students and opportunities to develop and enhance their practical skills. Each of the exit levels has an identified matching job role by the industries as per the National Skill Qualification Framework (NSQF) levels which are recognized all over the country. It is hoped that these programmes will enable many of them to become self-employed, entrepreneurs, creators and generators of jobs for themselves and for many more educated youth in the society.

BVoc in Early Childhood Centre Management and Entrepreneurship (ECCME)

The BVoc in ECCME programme has been conceptualised keeping the need to locate the preparation of daycare professionals in the University system as well as in institutional set-up as a degree programme. It is to be noted that the programme is not meant for the preparation of preschool teachers. While a daycare could have children from six months to 11 years, the specific focus in this degree programme would be two-fold—(i) on daycare services for children from six months to 3 years and (ii) after-school care for children up to elementary. A centre-based daycare with trained professionals would typically address issues of not just health and safety, but also create an environment that fosters cognitive and social-emotional development. With skill courses, the programme also offers the possibility of giving exposure to different crèches/daycares run by different organizations as part of their Industrial Internship. These exposure visits introduce students to the early childhood field in the country and therefore have been planned in two phases. In the initial phase, students are given exposure visits and later they are placed in different centres for 30 days of internship activities. In the second phase of the OJT, students work with various NGOs from the field.

BVoc in Retail Management

The retail industry in India is vibrant and one of the fastest-growing markets in the world especially in sectors such as modern retail, traditional retail, e-commerce, direct selling, direct marketing, etc. The BVoc in Retail Management is a specialized undergraduate programme which prepares the students to acquire such skills so that they become trained and skilled manpower for the retail sector. This programme is aimed to equip students with all the desired skills to meet the needs of today's customers by procuring the desired merchandise from the retail stores for their personal use. This programme helps students in developing skills required to bring the customers into the store and respond to their buying needs.

Each skill course in every semester has in-built theoretical and practical components. Apart from skill courses, it also has a good component of industrial internship in each semester where the students have the opportunity of working in different retail formats. After graduation, the students may be placed in various capacities in the retail sector as a retail manager, store manager, retail buyer, merchandise analyst, warehouse manager, brand manager, customer care executive, merchandise manager, etc.

BVoc Tourism and Hospitality

Today, the service industry is a major source of income for many countries, and impacts the economies of the source and host countries, in some cases, significantly. The broad category of fields within service industry includes lodging, event planning, theme parks, transportation, airline, cruise line and other such employment opportunities within the hospitality and tourism industry. The BVoc in Tourism and Hospitality programme focuses on the latest trends and development of the industry in both the theoretical courses and the practicum conducted on campus teaching.

General Education Component

All three BVoc programmes have a compulsory General Education Component (GEC) which, as per the UGC guidelines, has been designed by the School based on its vision and constitutes 40% of the total BVoc curriculum. While the School recognizes the importance of offering skill courses through the BVoc programmes, it also recognizes that it is important for a student to gain knowledge which is grounded, relevant, accessible as well as aims to enhance the practical skills and knowledge. While the GEC includes the courses and/or themes that are similar to those offered by other institutions, careful attention has been paid to the approach, delivery and in ensuring compositeness in it. The GEC is a cluster of courses of 12 credits per semester and are broadly divided into four areas: (i) Language Proficiency, (ii) Life Skills (Interpersonal and Organisation), (iii) Knowledge-based Perspectives, (iv) Ability Enhancement Courses.

Each foundation course has been developed: (i) to equip students with knowledge that helps them better understand the world they live in, (ii) to build the life-skills of the students that help in their organization, with peers and for the self, (iii) to equip the students with practical skills which they will require as professionals.

Collaborations

The School is collaborating with the Tourism and Hospitality Sector Skill Council (THSSC), NSDC, Government of India, for its BVoc in Tourism and Hospitality programme. Students participate in association visits and workshops organised by THSSC and are continuously in touch with premier industries and organisations for OJTs and industrial exposure.

3. Centres

3.1. Centre for Community Knowledge

The Centre for Community Knowledge (CCK) is an interdisciplinary research centre at Ambedkar University Delhi that studies living communities and their diverse oral, cultural, historical and practice-based knowledge. The Centre aims to document, study and disseminate the praxis of community knowledge, to improve the various understandings of our living heritage, and to integrate community-based knowledge to the available alternatives for sustainable futures. With a focus on communities at the ‘margins’, the Centre links community-led documentation of cultural heritage with scholarly rigour of analysis and research, in a public, transparent and collaborative way.

The Centre works toward building a dialogue between knowledge from the margins and the mainstream, in the absence of which, knowledge and cultural identity unique to local communities will continue to be ignored. As oral knowledge research, documentation and archiving Centre, it has initiated urban and rural programmes that document people-centered narratives of experiential and practice-based knowledge, history and cultural transformations.

By bringing together community knowledge holders with scholars and cultural heritage professionals, the Centre is working toward developing an interdisciplinary reassessment of our cultural pasts. The re-examination of visual and material cultures from a community perspective expands the sources of knowledge by bringing community knowledge into the knowledge mainstream. As part of its initiative, the Centre is also engaged in creating digital archives of community knowledge with recordings, visuals and text, obtained from individuals and private collections.

All the conversations/interviews have been transcribed verbatim, followed by the translation of every transcript in English. Related photographs have been collected from the family albums and personal collections of residents of Pipariya as well as the neighbourhood areas of Bhopal, Panchmarhi, and other parts of Madhya Pradesh.

Community Mental Health

In the continued effort to engage with the psycho-social and emotional lives of certain marginalized communities, the Centre collaborated with various institutions within Delhi in 2018 – 2019. Trainees of the MPhil Psychoanalytic Psychotherapy program along with supervising faculty members have engaged with multiple communities over the last year in an attempt to create a platform where inner experiences and feelings can be accessed and voiced. Some of these institutions are Khushi Home for Girls, Kilkari Home for girls, Salaam Balak Trust- Home for Girls, Umeed Aman Ghar – Home for Boys, Don Bosco Foundation and Mind-Piper. The significant narratives are being documented and significant themes being explored for research purposes as well.

The Don Bosco Foundation at Bhogal, New Delhi is a site for the rehabilitation of immigrants. They have various programs for education, vocational training, and mental health. They also have a team of psychologists, caseworkers and a visiting psychiatrist. Our MPhil trainees have been assisting and supporting the psychosocial team in their efforts. They are working with populations such as Afghani and Burmese refugees of different age groups including children and adults.

Khushi Rainbow Home and Kilkari Rainbow Home, shelters for homeless girls aged from 5–18 years, were established in 2008. These homes provide shelter and reprieve to several girls that are rescued by child protection agencies, byways of being engaged in abusive domestic labour, lost or abandoned from their homes, abducted or sold for sex-work, and also children that have run away from threatening and abusive environments. In the last year, the work has essentially been about immersive engagement with the girls to get a sense of their lives and forming a therapeutic relationship in the attempted reintegration with the mainstream society. Additionally, the psychotherapy trainees make themselves available as tutors for girls and as helping hands for the staff in the editorial work for their annual publication—a magazine created by all members of the community.

5.4. Information Technology Services Division

The University strongly believes that ‘Information Technology is a fundamental organizer in relationship development and making improvements to higher education. The University’s IT vision is to provide information and deliver it instantly and securely to students, faculty, and staff when needed. It aims to provide IT services that are capable of analysis for constant improvement and research through an active process that requires communication and collaboration across academicians. In doing so, the IT Services Division serves as the backbone for all IT related activities of the University. The services include internet access, wifi connectivity, intranet, virtual private network access, email, ERP management, online learning management system, and library services. The Division also handles the IT security, centralised backup storage, and maintenance of the University website and job portal.

The IT Services Division is committed to delivering technological advantage to various stakeholders of the University by fostering the creative and innovative use of technology to achieve the University’s objectives. The division promotes effective stewardship of information assets and provides a secure, reliable infrastructure and application support, so as to meet the ever-changing needs of the University community. These services help to improve teaching skills and learning abilities.

IT Facilities

AUD is part of NKN (National Knowledge Network) project, which is a state-of-the-art multi-gigabit pan-India network for providing a unified high-speed network backbone. This is useful for the purpose of knowledge sharing and collaboration of students, research scholars, faculty and other staff between different universities across the country. At present, the three campuses of AUD are connected via 100 Mbps MPLS connectivity, for the purpose of collaboration, use of resources and implementation of similar IT services across all campuses.

Among the various responsibilities that the Division shoulders, its primary responsibility is to cater to the common IT related needs of the students, researchers, faculty and other staff. These are the following:

VPN: Virtual Private Network connectivity has been provided so that digital information is accessed by authorized users remotely. Ubiquitous access to e-journals has been provided to the students, researchers, faculty and staff.

Computer Resources: Servers with virtualization are deployed for different applications, database, E-learning module, and other ancillary IT services. The faculty and staff have been provided end user compute resources such as desktops/laptops to cater to their day to day needs.

Storage: Central storage system can be accessed by the faculty and staff to store important data and files. Open source solutions such as DSpace, collective access, etc., have been deployed as document repositories.

ERP: A common integrated ERP system has been successfully implemented leading to the realisation of efficiencies of student life-cycle management.

University Website Portals: The website of the University along with the admission and recruitment portals are managed to provide information to the existing and new students, and other important stakeholders.

Intranet: The Intranet acts as an electronic notice board for internal university community. It is part of the larger initiative to unlock synergies and harmonize processes through a seamless flow of information across all campuses.

Email: Students, researchers, faculty and staff are issued an official email ID within the aud.ac.in domain.

IT Labs: The University has IT labs in all three campuses which are used by students and faculty for their learning enhancement, course modules along with other academic and research activities.

E-Learning: The faculty and scholars use a wide range of materials to support taught lessons and discussions including notes, handouts, audio-visual and multimedia materials, etc. Most of the classrooms are equipped with audio-visual aids to cater to the needs of teaching. E-learning tools such as Moodle and Google Classroom are primarily used by the faculty and students in the University.

IT Helpdesk: An online centralised helpdesk system for all three campuses is deployed to offer a multi-dimensional resource, designated to help in reducing downtime in IT services and functions and making them available for maximum time. End-users can create their IT service requests online and track the same if needed. A dashboard provides the real-time status of the IT services to senior management.

Academic Tools: Apart from the resources already mentioned, software such as SPSS, STATA, E-View, Mathematica, Arc-view GIS, Adobe Master Collection, Symantec endpoint protection, and Atlas TI, etc., are installed in all IT Labs for research and academic purposes.

Governance and Future Roadmap

An IT governance model is in place to act at the strategic, tactical and operational levels through the assignment of decision-making authority and accountability to the University's IT capabilities. An IT Advisory Committee consisting of external subject matter experts from eminent organizations/Universities have been constituted to advise on and recommend new IT infrastructure and application initiatives. An ERP Committee is also constituted to evaluate the process automation requirements and recommend a charter to implement initiatives aligned to the University's needs. A Web Task Force Committee has been constituted to address the requirements of website portals of the University including all Schools and Centres. The ERP and Web Task Force Committees act as change management boards for their respective areas.

The University's IT roadmap for the future includes up-gradation of ERP, website and introducing mobility to assist academicians and staff for enhanced process automation. In order to enable the University to respond to its rapidly evolving needs, the core IT infrastructure consisting of servers, networks, wifi connectivity, business continuity plans, disaster recovery management is being redesigned. This will provide a stable, scalable and secure platform for institutional growth. The Division has taken initiatives in the direction of maintaining green data-centers by implementing Virtualization Technology. This will enhance the ability to scale on demand-based operational requirements and will result in significant cost efficiencies. The Division believes in implementing the solutions 'the open source way' which promotes collaborative participation, rapid prototyping, transparency, meritocracy, and community-oriented development. A comprehensive process design exercise covering processes across various divisions is being initiated and will be leveraged for the implementation of process automation tools. This initiative will enhance visibility and implement shared services resulting in realization of further synergies.

Admissions to undergraduate programmes are based on merit (marks obtained in Class XII examinations for all BA programmes, and for all BVoc programmes, the selection is based on merit and interview) and those to the postgraduate and research programmes (MPhil and PhD) are based on written examination and interview.

Foreign Students

One seat is reserved for foreign students in every programme. The degrees of foreign nationals must be recognised by the Association of India Universities. Foreign nationals who are not in India must apply through their Embassy or Consulate. All foreign nationals must hold a student visa valid for the entire period of study, endorsed by the Ministry of External Affairs, Government of India. Fee for foreign students is twice the fee applicable to Indian students for each semester along with Rs. 500 per semester towards the Student Welfare Fund and a refundable deposit of Rs. 10,000.

Lateral Admission Committee

Lateral Admission Committee facilitates the process of lateral entries in any particular programme of study. Admission through this category is subjected to submission of all relevant documents (results of previous semester/year etc.) and fulfilling the eligibility (additional, if any) criteria as prescribed for admission in that programme of study.

Fee Structure

The University fee structure ranges from Rs. 800 to Rs. 2640 per credit of the programme. In addition, the University also collects Rs. 500 per semester, towards the Student Welfare Fund and a refundable, one-time caution deposit of Rs. 5000 at the time of admission. The fee structure may vary from one programme to another.

Refund of Fees

After being admitted, if a student discontinues from the programme, the fee is refunded in accordance with the timing of the discontinuation. Before orientation, Rs. 1000 will be deducted and after orientation, only caution deposit is refunded.

Fee-waiver

The University offers full waiver of tuition fees to all students belonging to SC, ST, and PwD categories, subject to submission of relevant certificates. Students from economically weaker backgrounds, other than SC/ST/PwD categories, availed tuition fee concession subject to submission of income certificate issued by relevant authorities. The slab-wise concession based on gross annual family income is as follows:

Category	% of Tuition Fee-waiver	Gross Annual Family Income
Slab-1	100%	₹3Lakh or below
Slab-2	75%	₹ 4 Lakh or below but more than ₹ 3 Lakh
Slab-3	50%	₹ 5 Lakh or below but more than ₹ 4 Lakh
Slab-4	25%	₹ 6 Lakh or below but more than ₹ 5 Lakh

This year 1004 students availed fee-waiver and the number of students (School-wise) who availed fee waiver are given below:

Ten percent of the tuition fee collected is disbursed as scholarship. Scholarships awarded at the University are of two kinds: merit-based and academic progression. Merit-based scholarships are awarded as per the CGPA and academic progression scholarships are awarded to students whose CGPA has improved from the previous semester. This scholarship acts as an encouragement for students to improve their overall grades.

This year, 307 students received the merit-based scholarships and one student received the academic progression scholarship. The number of students who availed scholarships is given below.

Student Welfare Fund

The University has created a student Welfare Fund with the objective of providing financial assistance to meet the welfare requirements of students in need, such as emergent medical assistance, purchase of books and study material, meeting the boarding and lodging expenses equivalent to the amount that is required to avail AUD hostel facilities, and any other comparable needs of students.

An amount of Rs. 500 per semester is collected from all students towards the Student Welfare Fund and an equal amount is contributed by the University. The fund is managed and monitored by a committee that includes nominees of the student community.

Learning Enhancement Fund

Learning Enhancement Fund (25% of the fee collected) is disbursed to meet the expenses incurred under various field-trips/immersions. This year the funds were utilized for various field-visits, workshops, internships etc., organised by the Schools.

Student Travel Grant

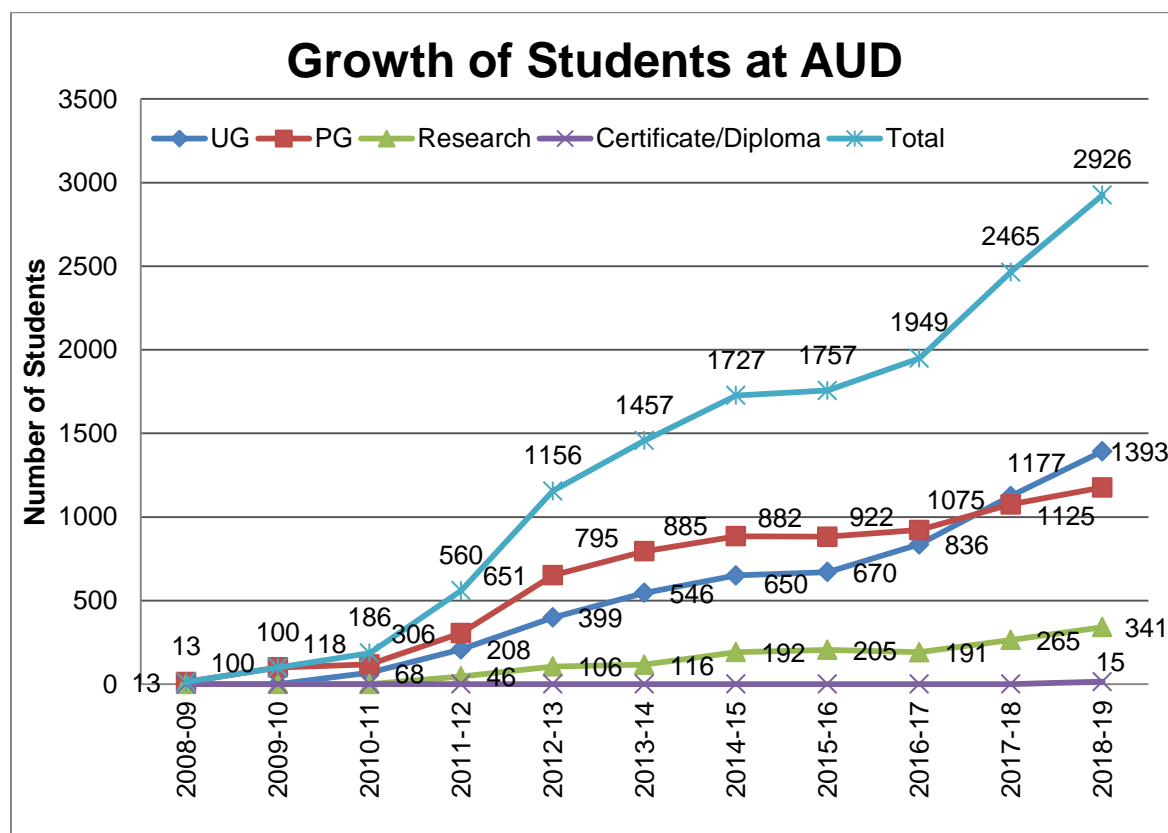

This fund has been created to meet the travel and other expenses of students related to paper presentations or conferences within or outside India. This year 62 students were given Rs. 1,691,309 as travel-grant to participate in various seminars and to present their papers at national and international conferences.

Hostel Facilities

The University has possession of the top floor of Kaveri Hostel of Indira Gandhi Delhi Technical University for Women (IGDTUW) since 2013–14, for female students with an intake capacity of 45 students. It was agreed that the Hostel will be managed by the Warden of IGDTUW including mess facilities. The University will take the responsibility of providing the required students' intake and assisting them as per the needs and requirements whenever they arise. The seats were allotted as presented below. All eligible SC/ST/OBC/PwD students who applied for hotel accommodation were offered admission. During the year 2018–19, a total of 48 students (45 plus the vacant spots from the previous cycle) were offered hostel facilities. As of March 2019, 44 students are availing these facilities. Seat allotments were based on the reservation policy and the category-wise break-up of admitted students are:

Category	Number of Students
General	29
SC	06
ST	09
OBC	00
PwD	00

Student Welfare Measures

The University has set up various measures to support and assist the students in need. Some of these include:

Language Cell: While the medium of instruction in the University is English, the Language Cell helps students of different linguistic backgrounds to improve their reading, writing and comprehension skills in English.

Student Cell: The University has created a Student Cell, a peer support group that would support and assist fellow students, especially those who are facing economic, academic, social or emotional difficulties. It is a quasi-official body comprising largely of students themselves meant to act as a liaison between Student Services and the students. The Cell primarily acts as a buffer between the students and the administration.

Student Faculty Committee (SFC): The SFC is a forum for students and teachers to interact and resolve all academic related issues/concerns including classroom teaching, assessment, attendance, conduct of exams, feedback, etc. It is a two-tier structure consisting of the programme-level SFC Executive and SFC General Body for students and faculty respectively who are elected/nominated representatives for one year.

Mentorship and Counseling: The University endeavors to support every student in his/her struggle to find moorings in the university's academic and social space. A system of mentorship and counseling has been set up at the University to facilitate this.

ehsaas—The Psychotherapy and Counseling Clinic: The University has set up a Psychotherapy and Counseling Clinic, ehsaas, to attend to the emotional needs of its students, faculty and the larger social milieu of the city. The clinic provides free counseling and psychotherapy.

Complaint Redressal Mechanism: An Online Problem Redressal System for Students (OPRSS) has been set up to maintain a computerized record of the problems or difficulties faced by the students and monitor progress towards resolution of the same. The data thus recorded is analysed for management decisions.

Student Council: The second Student Council was constituted in October, 2018, after the election on 10 October 2018. 31 students were elected as class representatives, 39 as councilors, 6 as coordination committee members and 1 student was elected as treasurer of the Student Council.

Anti-ragging Committee: As per UGC Regulations, 2009, on Curbing the Menace of Ragging in Higher Educational Institutions, the University has constituted an Anti-ragging Committee, as well as an Anti-ragging Squad. The Committee is in place for planning and promoting a ragging free environment in the University. The Anti-Ragging Squad has been constituted to work under the supervision of Anti-ragging Committee and is engaged in checking and preventing incidents of ragging in hostels, canteens, classrooms and other places where students congregate. Further it is mandated to educate and sensitize the students in the University about the menace of ragging and related provisions of punishment.

Proctorial Committee: The Proctorial Committee is set-up to look after complaints/grievances relating to discipline among students.

Advisory Committee: An Advisory Committee is set up to oversee the effective implementation of reservation policies pertaining to admissions and appointments in the University. The committee is chaired either by the Dean, Academic Services or by the Dean, Student Services.

Student Welfare Fund Managing Committee: The Student Welfare Fund Managing Committee (SWFMC) was reconstituted to consider the student welfare fund recommendations forwarded by various Schools in each semester. The term of the committee members other than the student representatives is for a period of two years. The term of student representatives is for a period of one year.

Standing Committee Student Affairs: The Standing Committee Student Affairs (SCSA) is responsible for all matters related to Student Services and submits its report/recommendations to the Academic Council from time to time. The term of the above members of the SCSA, other than ex-officio Chair, shall be for a period of two years or until their term whichever is earlier.

Co-Curricular Activities (CCA)

The University has established numerous student societies/clubs to galvanize the cultural and extracurricular life of students in the campus. Students are actively engaged in Theatre Society, Sports Committee, Debating Society and Literary Society. The Economics Society and the Society for Visual Culture have also been activated. There are regular talks, lectures, screenings and performances in the campuses and students are encouraged to organize events and participate in them.

Career and Alumni Relations Cell

The Career Cell is currently in its nascent phase and focuses on promoting self-awareness among students, working with students on career exploration, establishing a well-oiled placement mechanism and maintaining a relationship with the University's alumni. The Cell overlooks the following:

- Arranging internship for first and second-year students during summer and winter break.
- Organising industrial/professional exposure visits for students.
- Providing guidance and counseling for students who want to pursue higher education.
- Arranging campus placement opportunities for graduating students.
- Organising career related workshops, seminars, and panel discussions for students.

Career and Education Meet: The Cell organised the Career and Education Meet on 8 March 2019. The purpose of the meet was to connect students and alumni with prospective employers. The structure of the meet was segmented into four categories: (i) jobs and internships, (ii) higher education opportunities, (iii) startup and entrepreneurship, and (iv) career counselling. More than 30 organisations exhibited at this meet and interacted with approximately 200 students and alumni.

As an outcome of the meet, the following 12 students were offered placements/internships tentatively:

Alumni Association

While some Schools/Programmes have already initiated programme-level alumni networks of graduates, a formal University level Alumni Association is in the process of being registered. The alumni's progress is tracked at the Programme/School level, and they are also invited to programmes or events organised by the Schools. The University aims to establish a formal alumni association as a registered body and in this endeavour it has held consultative meetings with the alumni representatives and other stake-holders.

Events/Activities

AUD@city 2018–19: The University's Kashmere Gate campus hosted the 7th edition of Aud@city, the annual festival of the University, in February 2019. The co-curricular societies organized various competitions such as Commotion (English turncoat debate), Vaad-Samvaad (Hindi turncoat debate), Kaleidoscript 3.0, Symphony and Percussion, Face Painting, AD-MAD (Photography competition), HallaBol (Street theatre competition) and Food and Drinks Quizzes and many more in the span of two days. It is headed by a Dean under Statute 7A of the Statutes of the University. The division is currently staffed with an Assistant Registrar supervising administration, an office assistant and a data entry operator. A Deputy Dean was also appointed in March 2018 with a special focus on looking after ERP related matters.

The primary responsibility of the division is to track students from admission to graduation. The division does this by creating the procedures and rules for:

1. Course registration of students
2. Recording of attendance
3. Assessment and grade submission
4. Promotion and award of degrees/certificates.

The division works in close collaboration and coordination with the Student Services division. The division is the repository division for assessment records of all students of the University. This is done online via ERP. The Division is also responsible for overseeing the student feedback mechanism in the University.

One of the major annual tasks of the division is to oversee the organising the Convocation. The division is also entrusted with the issue of final transcripts, provisional-, migration- and transfer certificates as well as the degree certificates. The division also works closely with all Schools of the University to ensure that due approval of courses take place in advance, assessment rules are followed, deadlines for attendance submission and grade submission are met, and lists of promoted and graduated students are provided within prescribed timeline.

Responsibilities

The Division has created an AES Calendar which sets timelines for the various activities to be done by the Schools with respect to attendance, assessment, grade submission, course approvals, timetable, and teaching requirements. Separate calendars have been made for undergraduate, postgraduate and research programmes.

The Division supervises online course registration at the university computer lab for the School of Undergraduate Studies.

Changes in the academic module of the ERP system have been incorporated by the division like Automatic Promotion from 2nd year to 3rd year, automatic grade cut as per SUS attendance policy, generation of degree with QR code, generation of final transcript with QR code.

Timetables as well as teaching requirements for forthcoming semester are planned under the aegis of the AES Division.

All course details (course outlines) for forthcoming semesters are gathered by the AES Division for disseminating to the students via the website.

ERP Orientation programmes are organised every semester to help faculty members to acquaint with the new changes on ERP as well as to familiarize them with existing protocols on ERP.

ERP system training sessions are conducted by the Division for the administrative staff.

The Division also orients students about its role upon being invited by Schools to do so.

Systems have been put in place for faculty and school staff to report via email, day-to-day problems being faced with regard to the academic module on ERP. Regular weekly meetings are held with IT division to keep abreast of any ERP problems faced.

The division has also taken up the work related to National Academic Depository. The Agreement regarding the same has already been signed with the CDSL Venture Ltd as per Government norms. All the data for current as well as the previous batches i.e., Degree and Transcript has been uploaded to NAD portal.

Examination Reforms

The division has provided the framework for conducting the assessments and entry of grades in ERP. The division has also developed some monitoring mechanisms in cooperation with Deans, Programme Coordinators, and Course Coordinators.

It has been made mandatory for all the course coordinators to enter the component-wise grades in ERP in a timely manner. The ERP system then calculates the final grade. In this manner all the assessment details of any course taught at the University are recorded on ERP, thereby enabling it to be a repository of all the assessment records of the students.

In the year 2012, the Government of NCT of Delhi decided to develop the University’s campuses across the National Capital Territory. Taking into account that some technical expertise was required in AUD for overseeing such large projects, it was felt necessary to have a full-fledged Engineering Unit in the University to look after and monitor the development of new campuses. Accordingly, the Campus Development Division was formed in the year 2014.

With the guidance of a Steering Committee and an Advisory Committee, the Division is involved in the conception, design, and development of the new campuses of the University, in Dheerpur and Rohini. The imagination of the new campuses as green and eco-friendly, adhering to the optimal use of natural resources like light, water, and energy, as well as areas where these resources are preserved and regenerated will provide an opportunity to experiment with ideas of conservation, development, and sustainability. The new campus will also redesign campus spaces so that they are integrated and sensitive to the needs of the differently-abled members of the University.

The Division is led by senior level professionals and engineers having experience of more than 25 years in the construction field. A support team with Project Engineers and Administrative Staff is assisting the Campus Development Division.

(A new position of Registrar (Admin & Finance) for Campus Development Division has been advertised.)*

Status of Campuses

Dheerpur and Rohini Campuses: The Ministry of Urban Development (Delhi Division, Government of India) had allotted a plot measuring 20 hectares to set up a campus for the University in Dheerpur Phase-I, Delhi-110009. The boundary wall around the area has been constructed. A plot measuring 7.03 hectares in Rohini was allotted to the University by the DDA in 2010. The preexisting boundary wall around the plot has been repaired by the Public Works Department (PWD) and the concertina coil has been on the wall to prevent trespassing.

In order to strengthen the security, high mast light towers have been installed inside both plots of land in Dheerpur and Rohini to prevent encroachment. The security arrangements at both plots have been made by deploying security guards round the clock.

As decided by the GNCTD, PWD has been appointed as the Project Management Consultant (PMC) for undertaking construction on both sites. A MoU to this effect was signed on 2 March 2017 between the University and PWD. PWD had initiated action for the selection of Consultants to comprehensively plan and design the projects based on a Design Competition through open tendering and the timeline for appointment of Consultants (Architects) was fixed on 15 July 2017. After a delay in the appointment of Consultants for both sites, the process has been reinitiated calling RfP (request for proposal) bids. A pre-bid meeting for the same was held on 12 March 2019. The technical bids for appointment of consultants for both sites were opened on 25 March 2019. The PWD sent its recommendations for short-listing of bidders on 24 May 2019. A presentation will be given by the shortlisted bidders before a jury constituted by the University and Consultants (Architects) are likely to be appointed by 31 July 2019. The Expenditure Finance Committee (EFC) approval by GNCTD and the Municipal approvals will be available by 31 April 2020 and it will take 3 years for the development of both campuses.

Karampura Campus: The renovation of the main Academic Block and Girls Hostel was completed in July 2018 at a cost of Rs. 6.6 crores. This year the main Academic block consisting of 50 Rooms for staff and students including classrooms, labs, committee rooms, library, etc., has been made functional in order to enhance the campus capacity. A girl's hostel for 40 students has also been made functional this year. An auditorium with a capacity of 250 persons is under renovation and is likely to be completed by 31 July 2019.

For improving the day-care and residential facilities at Karampura Campus, a multi-story building along with an electric substation is under construction at a cost of Rs.5.80 crores. This building is likely to be completed by October 2019.

Lodhi Road Campus: Renovations of the first, second and third floors of the campus building have been underway during this year and are likely to be completed by July 2019.

For improving the training facilities at Lodhi Road Campus, a multi-story building is also proposed to be constructed. A cost estimation of Rs. 20 crores for this project has been received from PWD and the proposal has been forwarded to DHE, GNCTD for approval.
